Grand Jury Recommends Reduction In County Salaries

ELECTIVE OFFICERS INCLUDED

Investigators Suggest That They Take Voluntary Cut Along With Others

REDUCE ROAD WORK

School Boards Asked Also to Slash Salaries in Line with Economy Move

THE 1931-1932 Orange county grand jury filed its annual report this afternoon in the court of Superior Judge H. G. Ames.

It recommended that salaries of appointive officers be cut 10 per cent, that elective officers voluntarily take a like cut; that salaries of school employees be cut and that all budgets pertaining to county expenditures be cut not less than 10 per cent. It also advised curtailment of road expenditures, but asserted that serious consideration be given to the water problem.

The report said a letter is being sent to each school board requesting the bodies to consider the financial situation seriously, to work over their budgets and cut down their extra curricular activities and effect cuts in salaries, general operating expenses and capital outlays to "meet the emergency that confronts us."

"We believe that the splendid road system of Orange county has been developed to such an extent that no money should be appropriated for the building of any new highways or bridges for several years and recommend that the highway department confine itself to the grading and oiling of dirt roads and maintenance of the present system only," the report said.

"Notwithstanding our recommendations for economy, we believe that a plan of water conservation and flood control is absolutely essential for Orange county to protect and conserve its present interests and to safeguard the future welfare and development of the county, and we recommend to the supervisors and to the citizens generally most serious consideration of this vital problem."

In line with its suggestions for economy, the grand jury recommended that the county fruit patrol be discontinued.

THREE KILLED AND 8 HURT IN WRECK

BEAUMONT, Tex., Jan. 22.—(UP)— Three persons were killed and eight injured last night when an automobile carrying members of a basketball team collided with a construction company truck on the Fannett highway nine miles from here.

The dead:
L. G. Rodgers, 30, formerly of Weimar, principal of the Winnie school.

Francis McBride, 16, member of the Winnie school basketball team.
C. E. Peck, Baton Rouge, La., employee of the N. A. S. A. Construction company, of San Antonio.

REPORTS SPLIT IN MACDONALD CABINET TODAY

Government Breaks Over Tariff Issue and Its New Policy

LONDON, Jan. 22.—(UP)—A split in Prime Minister J.
Ramsay MacDonald's national government over the tariff issue was announced in an official communique today.

The communique said the cabinet, unable to obtain unanimity on a tariff policy, had decided those ministers unable to support the cabinet's majority conclusions "on the subject of important duties and cognate matters, are at liberty to express their views by speech and vote." The communique was issued after a cabinet session lasting two and one-half hours.

"The cabinet," the communique said, "is deeply impressed with the paramount importance of maintaining national unity in the presence of the grave problems which now confront this country and the whole world."

"Accordingly, it has been determined that some modification of the usual ministerial practice is required. The cabinet being essentially united on all other matters of policy, believes by this special provision it is best interpreting the will of the nation and needs of the time."

The decision probably will produce a unique situation, in which such ministers as Sir Donald Mac-Lean and Isaac Foot will vote in Commons against a measure of the government of which they are members.

The majority of the cabinet was generally understood to be in agreement on a 10 per cent revenue tariff on everything except food and some raw materials. The majority also agreed on establishment of a non-political tariff commission to draft an eventual scientific tariff combining both revenue and protective features.

No word is heard from kidnapped man

DENVER, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Benjamin P. Bower, elderly baking company official, still was missing today, more than 24 hours after he was kidnapped from his home by two gunmen for $50,000 ransom.

No word has been received from the kidnapers by members of Bower's family and a police search of Denver and environs had returned no clue to the 62-year-old official's whereabouts.

A heavily armed squad of detectives which had left headquarters at 9:30 o'clock last night returned early today with a man and a woman, who were placed in cells immediately.

Police refused to give the names of the couple or any information about their arrest other than to say they would be questioned concerning the kidnapping.

BOY IS TAKEN FOR RIDE BY TWO GIRLS

DECATUR, Ala., Jan. 22.—(UP)—
Jack Carter, 19-year-old Ulaski, Tenn., youth taken for a ride and shot by two teenage girl friends was reported dying here today.

Carter was found slumped along in a semi-conscious condition near a roadhouse on the highway near here. He was mumbling
"they got me." He said his abductors were two pretty young girls.

He said he was standing on a street corner when two girls drove up in an automobile and invited him to go for a spin.

He had hardly entered the car, however, he told police, when they announced they were going to kill him. He protested but they took him to a deserted spot on the highway, shot him through the chest and shoved him from the machine.

GRAND JURY IN HONOLULU WILL REPORT TODAY

POLICE, County Probers and Legislature Attacking Island Lawlessness

HONOLULU, Jan. 22.—(UP)— Police, the grand jury and the territorial legislature attacked Hawaii's lawlessness from three sides today.

While officers with drawn guns searched all Oahu for the latest woman attacker, grand jurors resumed their inquiry into the famous "honor slaying" of a young native and the legislature pursued its task of redrafting law enforcement measures as a cure for laxity.

Daniel Lyman, 22, a murder convict escaped from Oahu prison, was hunted in the cane fields and mountain crags of the island after his asserted identification as the assault of a Japanese man and woman. The man was beaten, robbed and tied to a railroad track and the woman, mother of two children, was attacked.

A long list of witnesses was called by prosecutors for the second day's hearing in the kidnaping and slaying of Joe Kahahual, for which four persons are held on murder charges aboard the navy receiving ship Albatross at Pearl harbor. The jury was expected to vote on indictments sometime today.

Meanwhile, the senate and house of representatives, called into assembly today.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 22.—The California campaign for the renomination and re-election of President Hoover will be conducted by the Republican state committee with State Chairman Marshall Hale, San Francisco, in charge in the north and Vice Chairman Louis B. Mayer, Los Angeles, directing activities in Southeastern California.

This was the announcement here today of Mark L. Requa, Santa Barbara, Republican national committeeman for California, following a conference with leading Hoover supporters in this section of the state. Mr. Requa will maintain offices in Los Angeles during the presidential primary and general election campaigns, he said.

The Hoover drive in California will be started about February 1, with Mr. Mayer asking Republican county committees in the south to co-operate with the state committee in their respective counties, and Mr. Hale making the same request in the north.

"Our campaign in behalf of a solid ticket of Hoover delegates from this state, although more in the nature of a ratification than a contest, will not be a preliminary one," Mr. Requa declared.

California will elect 47 delegates to the Republican national convention in Chicago at the presidential primary on May 3. Two delegates will be chosen from each of the state's 20 congressional districts and seven at large.

DISTRICT LIONS IN MEETING IN FRESNO

FRESNO, Calif., Jan. 22.—(UP)— Members of Lions clubs from all parts of California and Nevada were arriving here this morning for the two-day district conference that opens this afternoon under the chairmanship of Dr. Elliott Rowland, Santa Ana, district governor.

Featured guests who arrived for the conference were Julian C.
Hyer, Fort Worth, Tex., international president; Melvin O. Jones, international secretary, and Ray L. Riley, Sacramento, past international president.

FLIER THOUGHT TO

EL PASO, Tex., Jan. 22.—(UP)— Otto P. Graff, New York businessman flier, believed lost in desert land east of El Paso, was found safe today at Dalworth, midway between Fort Worth and Dallas, American airway officials were informed by their teletype system.

The message said Graff was forced down at Dalworth Wednesday night when he ran out of gasoline. He was reported uninjured.

Admission As Evidence Is Opposed

Judge Recesses Court Until Afternoon in Order to Decide

COURTROOM, PHOENIX, Jan.
22.—(UP)—A battered brown suitcase that allegedly held part of the remains of Miss Hedvig Samuelson, served today to hold up the trial of Winnie Ruth Judd on the charge that she murdered Miss Samuelson's room-mate, Agner Anne Lerol.

A few minutes after court opened this morning, the suitcase was brought in and it started a legal argument that became so bitter that Judge Howard Speakman finally adjourned court until the afternoon session so that attorneys could present briefs.

The argument concerned the admissibility of evidence of the slay-ing of Miss Samuelson.

After the 26-year-old defendant surrendered to charges that she killed both girls and at almost the same time, the state decided to bring her to trial on only the count concerning Mrs. Lerol.

Its plan was to hold in reserve the Miss Samuelson count and to try Mrs. Judd on that charge in the event it did not consider the verdict satisfactory if the Lerol case.

The state claimed that Mrs. Judd took the bodies of the two girls to Los Angeles in two trunks and a suitcase. It said the suitcase contained only portions of the dismembered body of Miss Samuelson.

When the suitcase was introduced this morning, defense counsel objected immediately on the ground that since Mrs. Judd was on trial only for Mrs. Lerol's death, that evidence concerning Miss Samuel-son's demise could not be used.

The state contended the cases were so interlocking that it was not possible to separate them.

The defense contended that this was a case of "honor slaying" and that the state was trying to bring in evidence of the slaying of Miss Samuelson to prove the guilt of Mrs. Judd.

Particular interest was being shown by local authorities in alleged statements made by Mahdo Ram, 55, indicating Mahdo may have definitive knowledge of the slaying of Sant Ram Pandu, former university of California student, whose headless body was found in a Solano county slough last March.

Mahdo is claimed to have threatened Kishan Singh, a witness in the trial of Achal, with the statement that "We'll take you out and kill you like we did Pandu."

OPEN HEARINGS ON NEW TARIFF BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(UP)—
The senate finance committee decided today to have open hearings, beginning tomorrow, on the Democratic tariff bill.

The bill, which transfers from the president to congress authority to make rate changes on recommendations of the tariff commission, has been passed by the house.

Senator Vandenberg, Republican, Michigan, offered as an amendment to the Democratic bill a provision which would enable the tariff commission to transfer articles and commodities to and from the free list. This would open the way to imposition of tariffs on oil, copper and other free list commodities. Democrats on the committee refused to consider this proposal.

HOOVER PRACTICALLY BROKE AT END OF EACH YEAR DUE TO DONATIONS TO CHARITY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.— (UP)—President Hoover gives thousands of dollars away to charity and to aid the unemployed and is practically
"broke" at the end of the year, persons close to the chief executive asserted today.

The comment came up in connection with talk this week about reducing the pay of government employees. The president is paid $75,000 a year. He has an additional $25,000 for traveling expenses and another $25,000 for official entertainment.

But in the last few months
he has given $22,500 to charity.
"And this does not take into account the scores of donations the president makes during the course of a year to private charities," the spokesman said. "These unquestionably run into several thousands of dollars."

"Furthermore, the president spends thousands of dollars on entertainment at the White House which must come out of his own pocket. The $25,- 000 for official entertainment falls far short of covering all the dinners, breakfasts and other functions he must give that cannot come under the head of "official."

There are upwards of a dozen huge official receptions to the diplomatic corps, members of congress, the judiciary, the army and navy and so on —and each is an expensive function cutting into the comparatively meager sum allowed.

Even so, the president was represented as willing to accept a reduction in salary if congress decides to cut the pay of government employees.
The president's personal fortune is said to have shrunk materially in recent years. It was estimated now at "far less than $1,000,000."

JAPANESE ARE SOCIAL REVOLT GIVEN WARNING IN SPAIN PUT BY U. S. CONSUL DOWN BY YOUTH

Told to Keep Out of International Settlement to Avoid Trouble

SHANGHAI, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Japanese must stay out of the international settlement to avoid further disturbances here, American Consul General Edwin Cunningham warned today.

After a conference of foreign consular officials and settlement authorities, Cunningham said:
"The Japanese must stay out of the settlement. If they stay out, there won't be any trouble."

The conference was called to consider the tense situation caused by the receipt of Tokio dispatches saying that 25 additional Japanese warships were being loaded at Sasebo naval base for emergency orders, presumably to proceed to Shanghai.

Other reports from Tokio said the Japanese were prepared to send troops to reinforce landing parties if necessary.

Six Japanese warships were expected here late Saturday in addition to the four already in port.
It was understood British and American naval officers had conferred informally regarding the situation.

The belief increases that the Japanese intend to stage an impressive display of naval and military strength to influence the Chinese to abandon the boycott of Japanese goods.

KNIFE IS REMOVED FROM MAN'S BRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—(UP)—For the first time in 30 hours Linus Larson, 59, slept last night untrou-bled by a two and a half inch knife blade piercing his brain.

In a delicate operation the blade was removed from the left frontal lobe of Larson's brain where it lodged after a fight. Larson learned of its presence only a few months ago.

He was troubled by epilepsy attacks and an x-ray revealed the imbedded blade. Because of his age an operation was considered inadvisable, but with attacks becoming more frequent Larson determined to have the blade removed.

CHRYSLER TO START
NEW PLANT AT ONCE

DETROIT, Jan. 22.—(UP)— Chrysler Motor Car corporation will start immediate construction of a Pacific Coast plant, Walter P. Chrysler, chairman of the corporation board of directors, announced today with the purchase of a 27-acre factory site in Los Angeles.

The new plant to be located in the industrial section of the city will employ several hundred workers, Chrysler said. It will serve as a manufacturing and distributing center for the corporation's west coast trade.

CALIFORNIA STATE AUTO GROUP ELECTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—(UP)— R. L. Bentley of San Francisco began his second term as president of the California State Automobile association after his re-election at the annual meeting here.

Directors named to serve with Bentley were E. B. Hawke, Modesto, Frank A. Cressey, Jr., San Francisco, John R. Graham, Merced, Francis Carr, Redding, Thomas W.
Hine, Eureka, Percy E. Towne, San Francisco, and Irving W. Kahn, San Francisco, who also was elected treasurer.

E. B. De Golia, San Francisco, was named first vice president and D. E. Watkins was elected to his 19th term as secretary and general manager.

GASSER BROUGHT IN
IN HANFORD FIELD

HANFORD, Calif., Jan. 22.—(UP)—
The Erma No. 3 was brought in as a gasser in the Dudley Ridge field yesterday and was estimated producing 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily.

The well was produced by the Erma company on land owned by A. B. Wilson and Ralph W. Wal-son, both Fremans, and leased by the mto Charles King, Hanford.

It was expected here the well would settle down to about 5,000, 000 cubic feet of gas production daily. It was believed the gas would be turned into the Pacific & Electric company mains.

The new gasser came in from about 1200 feet on the edge of the field.

(UP)—President Hoover's program for a reconstruction corporation which will put $2,000,- 000,000 of credit into a war against business depression completed its journey through congress today. It was passed by both house and senate today.

measure as soon as congress finishes the final legislative formalities. He already has asked congress for a $500,000,000 appropriation to provide initial capital.

Charles G. Dawes, a typical American business man of courage and disregard for precedents, is standing by, already designated as president of the corporation, prepared to throw his commanding personality and business experience into this gigantic job. He stands as the personification of American confidence in the future, in the country's almost inexhaustible resources, for the conviction that anything is possible. He, along with the $2,000,000,000 will become one of the most valuable assets of the corporation.

Beside him is the less dramatic, quiet, shrewd expert, Eugene Meyer jr., governor of the federal reserve board and its guiding hand through the roughest sea it has ever sailed. He has been named chairman of the board.

His experience with the war finance corporation, a miniature predecessor of the reconstruction finance corporation, is an asset which inspires the confidence of the financial world.

Under their generalship, and with colleagues thoroughly familiar with financial and business conditions, the reconstruction finance corporation soon will begin making loans and rediscounting securities.

Banks, savings banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, insurance companies, mortgage loan companies, credit unions, federal land banks, agricultural and livestock credit corporations are entitled to this aid on sound collateral.

Officers will be set up here with branches throughout the country. A secretary and director of the sound will be appointed immediately.

The corporation begins its fateful adventure at a critical time. A drive on the dollar has started abroad again. Gold is being called to Europe from New York daily. Americans have hoarded more than $1,000,000,000 out of fear. Some other nations are believed to be eager to see the United States go off the gold standard. If the nation keeps cool, economists say, nothing can force such an event.

ATTORNEYS IN JUDD CASE IN HEATED BATTLE

particular piece of evidence could be separated.

The judge dismissed the jury while arguments were heard and then finding no precedents to fit the case, called a recess and asked attorneys to submit briefs.

Mrs. Judd said no attention to the arguments but she was a bit annoyed when her husband, Dr. William C. Judd, left her for some time during a temporary recess before the court adjourned.

"Go and bring him to me," she said to Dr. George Stephens, an alibi sitting at defense table.

Dr. Stephens was just about to oblige when Dr. Judd returned.

Mrs. Judd, as usual, was pale and composed through the morning session. She wore a dark brown dress, the first change from the dark blue one she had on the first day.

She nervously fingered a handkerchief, sometimes wrapping it around her hand so that it resembled the bandage she wore when she surrendered to the stayings.

The bandage covered a wound, which, she said in stories she sold to newspapers, she received in a scuffle with the two girls before she shot them in self defense.

John Washington, Negro porter at the Phoenix railroad station, was the only witness of the morning.

He told the court that he had carried a suitcase and a hatbox for Mrs. Judd when she boarded the train the night the state says she took the bodies of her two former friends to Los Angeles.

The suitcase and the hatbox were marked for identification and then the state asked Washington if he could identify this suitcase as the one carried by Mrs. Judd.

The defense objected immediately, stating the debate which held up proceedings. Judge Speakman at first seemed inclined to agree with the prosecution but after he heard the argument of Paul Schenck, noted Los Angeles criminal attorney, he decided to call the recess.

Schenck said he believed the decision the most momentous of the trial and one that would set a precedent through Arizona.

YOUTH JAILED
Arrested by Santa Ana police for the district attorney's office, Q. E. Otis, 19, of Santa Ana, was booked at the county jail last night on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Although no complaint had been issued in the case early this afternoon, it was reported that the matter, which involved a 16-year-old girl, would be handled in the juvenile court.

FIGURES SHOW EXTENT OF RELIEF WORK HANDLED BY COUNTY AND SANTA ANA

Because the flood of applications for work under the county emergency relief program has practically exhausted funds available for carrying on the work, it has been necessary to temporarily halt assignment of additional men to work it was learned today. This temporary delay is for the purpose of permitting county officials to work out an answer to the financial problem facing them at present, according to John Mitchell, chairman of the board of supervisors.

He said that there is no definite plan for the future and it is hoped that the conference of county officials and other interested parties scheduled for Monday will result in a plan whereby the relief work may be continued.

While assignment of people to work under the relief program has been temporarily discontinued, workers are in the field checking on the people receiving emergency employment. This check is to verify the qualifications and eligibility of applicants for aid and to make sure that the workers are receiving work in proportion to their needs.

Told Expenditures
From October until January 16 the county had expended $108,449 for wages under the relief program and with this amount had supplied 36,553 days of work. The number of days work provided is exclusive of October. Last week there were 2144 men employed on the relief work, according to records in the road department.

Of the total amount expended under the relief program $31,882.96 is from the welfare fund which, in turn, is taken from the county's unbudgeted reserve. On January 1, the county's unbudgeted reserve was $120,102.76, the same amount as reported at the beginning of the fiscal year. Inclusive of the $31,882.96 a total of $152,000 must be transferred from the unbudgeted reserve to the welfare fund to pay the department labor bill and take care of next week's payroll.

Money expended in the county relief program, totaling $108,449, has been obtained as follows from the various county funds: Welfare, $81,882.96; second road district, $6841.63; third road district, $10,089; fifth road district, $1400; automobile license, $607.50; county general, $4497.47.

Balances remaining in the funds contributing to the relief program, and other funds, after all deductions for all warrants up to December 31 have been made are: second district road, $44,539.98; third district road, $112,004.96; fourth district road, $19,908.40; fifth district road, $47,952; general road, $28,871.61; auto license, $240,899.98; bridge fund, $102,973.02; and county good roads fund, $62,384.33.

Declares Need Acute
In a speech recently delivered at Fullerton Supervisor William Schumacher declared that the situation has suddenly become more serious, and intimated that it will become acute on Saturday when all men now employed by the county under the welfare program are released through exhaustion of available funds. Chairman Mitchell said today, however, that he expected the program to be continued.

Verification of the fact that the situation is becoming worse was obtained this morning from the office of the Citizens' Unemployment Emergency Relief committee, functioning in Santa Ana. Robert Speed, executive secretary, said that there is at present a daily average of 20 persons registering for work. The registration, he said, has doubled in the past 30 days. At present there are 1219 persons registered for work since the office started functioning November 5.

Since the opening of the office a total of 236 persons have been provided with work. While some of this work was permanent the majority ranged from one half hour to several days. Jobs were found for 191 men and 45 women. The majority of women given work through the efforts of the Citizens' committee were placed in permanent work as housekeepers and domestics. It was pointed out.

Food for Distress
Twenty-five boxes of food have been distributed to destitute families and approximately 12 additional boxes have been given heads of families who declined actual charity but took their pay for work done in boxes of food provided.

SAVE THAT VINE!
PARIS — The historic Napoleon grapevine is to be saved for posterity. The French government has declared this vine, located on the Bastia highway in Corsica, to be a historical object and that it is not to be destroyed by man. This is the vine Napoleon said made his career possible, because it belonged to his parents and produce from it enabled them to send him to school.

HERE'S WAY TO HELP
Below is the form for making a pledge to aid the Citizens Unemployment Relief Fund. Every employed person in the city should do his bit in caring for the needy of this community and a standard of at least one day's pay each month is suggested as a minimum to meet this pressing need. Fill it out in the largest possible amount and mail it to the Unemployment Relief headquarters.

SALARY SLASH IS SUGGESTED BY GRAND JURY ON STADIUM

partment was recommended, "owing to the rapidly increasing cost to the county of this department."

In regard to the farm advisor's office, the report said that "this department, along with other departments, has expanded during the boom, and we feel its activities could be curtailed without serious damage to the county." The report also deplored "the sensational manner in which the unknown future work and the service rendered through field agents."

Consolidation of a number of school districts was suggested in order that these rural districts might avoid additional expense for needed new buildings.

It was advised that "school boards of the county pare down their expenditures to a minimum in anticipation of the inevitable cut in assessed valuation."

The report said that "The sheriff's office is being operated in a fair and impartial manner."

Commenting on the assessor's office the report said that the reduction in assessed valuations made last year has already been a means of saving to the taxpayers.

Other departments and divisions of county government were recommended in the report except for minor suggestions of changes.

Commending the agricultural commissioner's office, the report said that "due to the present emergency we do not feel that the extra help required in this department can be reduced at this time."

Road Department
The road department was commended and the grand jury suggested that dirt roads receive more attention in the future and the shoulders on cement roads special attention. It also advised that the severe dips in La Habra, on Chapman avenue in Fullerton, and one on the bias on Broadway in Santa Ana be taken care of.

In regard to rural school districts the report urged that the Los Angeles district join the Anaheim district rather than go in for a new building program; that the Centralia district consolidate with some other district for the same reason and that the Peralta district join the Olive district.

The report also advocated repeal of the teachers tenure law in the following words: "That to protect the educational program of the state of California the repeal of the tenure law and in its place a term plan be adopted."

O. H. Barr of Santa Ana was foreman of the jury, of which John J. Harrison, also of this city, was a member. Members were Richard Haster, Frank C. Latham, Tom giving the bowl project a flat rental fee of $500 per year or $1000 a year, Councilman Witmer stated that he believed that it would be better business for the city to take a 20 per cent out of the gate receipts of football games played by the high school.

No definite action was taken on any plan, the school board declaring that after an investigation, it would report its findings at its next meeting.

Dr. Burke and Witmer brought out the fact that the school would find many other uses for the bowl other than football during the years to come, such as the staging of pageants and other forms of school entertainment.

SPOILED SPOILS

LOS ANGELES—A thief looted basement of a home on East Fifth street and attempted to remove a 25-gallon cask of wine. He got the cask out of the basement, all right, but in rolling it down an incline his hold broke and the barrel slipped out of his grasp. Gathering momentum as it rolled down the hill, it struck a curbstone and splintered. The wine flooded the street.

Church Societies

Social Pronounced Success

A gratifying success was achieved by the old-fashioned social held under the auspices of the junior guild of the Church of the Messiah in the parish hall Wednesday night. Opening with a trial of the outdated "singing school," the social proceeded to hilarious close in the white phant auction over which Mrs. Robert Northcross was the auctioneer.

Mrs. Robert Northcross was the featured speaker on the program, her talk on such an enthusiastic vein as to rouse a corresponding interest in her audience. The recitals of Edinburgh, and the songs of Stratford-on-Avon were especially remarked upon.

Mrs. Northcross suggested that the beauty of the latter town might possibly have affected Shakespeare's writings. The luscious floral growth in England was also commented upon.

A play was presented by students of Ernest Crozier Phillips. Charles Woolaston and Mrs. John Johnson were vocal soloists, Cleland Harbold and Miss Anne Havens serving as their respective accompanists. Mrs. Ina Newton led the "singing school" which Cleland Harbold accompanied.

Those attending the social found a parish hall particularly cheerful with its roaring fire, and attributed generous credit for the success of the function to Mrs. S. Byler and her committee. Messrs. S. W. H. Ward, R. R. Tiffney, Mrs. Lillian M. Wallaston and Charles Overstoll, and to the officers who composed the refreshment committee. Messdames H. Farrar, E. F. Mueser and Christian Bondley. The work of Mrs. Amyore as auctioneer was especially commended.

GARDEN GROUP SETS DATE FOR FLOWER EVENT

The Garden section of the Santa Ana Ebell society yesterday shouldered responsibility for the beautifying of the approach to the city via the Santa Ana boulevard, in preparation for the Olympic games visitors, and set definite dates for the spring flower show held annually under the auspices of that organization. The latter exhibit will take place April 7 and 8 and will be held in conjunction with a fashion review.

The section received an offer from the Citizens' Unemployment Relief committee to supply men for the plowing of any vacant lots selected by the section for the planting of wild flowers, at the rate of $1.50 a lot. This committee also volunteered to supply the section with wild flower seed at wholesale prices.

Mrs. J. Dick Wilson and Mrs. Reeves Aylmore were appointed to direct the work of planting flowers along the highway and to encourage individual property holders to plant wild flowers in unused portions of their gardens. Cannas, Calceolarias, Verbenas, California poppies and other flower species will be planted along the boulevard, according to the section's present plans.

HUGE QUANTITY OF LIQUOR IS DUMPED

Hundreds of gallons of liquor, including Scotch, bourbon and just plain bootleg whiskey, wine and beer were dumped in the sewer at the county yards early today by Sheriff Logan Jackson and several deputies.

The liquor represented the hauls made by the sheriff's office during the past several weeks, and was dumped today because the liquor room at the county jail was getting crowded, it was reported.

WATER REPORT PRESENTED AT JOINT SESSION

Water conservation and sewage reclamation claimed the time of the Placencia Farm center and the American Legion post at a joint meeting last night at the American Legion hall.

The joint session was called that the farm center might present the attitude of the county farm bureau on sewage reclamation and water conservation. Principal speakers were Ralph McFadden, Placencia, of the water conservation committee of the bureau, and W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor.

Cory showed pictures taken on the last trip of the Forest Protection association to Saddleback. His pictures showed the trails and fire-breaks. The great need of preserving the forests from fire which destroys the water percolating properties of the water sheds was stressed by the speaker.

McFadden told of the report on sewage reclamation as adopted by the farm bureau and information about which the farm bureau is presenting to other organizations of the county.

A point made of the fact that all waters must be distributed above the Olive bridge over the Santa Ana river to reach the pumping station of the water basins of the county was received with surprise by many members of the center and the American Legion post.

The explanation given by McFadden and by George Bates was that below that point a number of strata of clay are encountered in drilling for water which prevents the water from percolating to the basin, is carried off in the drainage basin to the ocean.

McFadden said that all methods of water conservation known, including the bringing to Orange county of Metropolitan water for city use, will not supply the overdraft being made on the pumping basin.

R. D. Flaherty, secretary-manager of the farm bureau, and W. F. Coulter reported on the tax committee meeting at Santa Ana yesterday afternoon. All farm centers were represented, they said. The policy of the committee as well as the state farm bureau is to make a comprehensive investigation and recommend revision of taxation that will equalize the tax burden, they said.

In absence of E. J. Menard, secretary of the farm center, Norman Reeves, adjutant of the post, acted as secretary. L. T. Allred, president, was in the chair for the session. Announcements included the county citrus school at Fullerton February 9, 10 and 11 and a Boulder dam trip February 18, 19 and 20. An avocado school is scheduled for February 23 and avocado tour February 25.

Should the Libby-Owens-Ford organization be interested to the extent of building a plant in Santa Ana that it would not interfere with nor delay construction of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company here when the company decides to build.

SCHEDULE KNIGHTS COLUMBUS EVENTS

Santa Ana Knights of Columbus have been informed that the Fourth degree initiation will be held in Los Angeles on the evening of February 22 in the Elks club rooms. The banquet will be served in the same hall.

Word also has been received that the Southern California chapter of the Knights of Columbus will give a play in the Shrine auditorium on the evening of February 4 for the unemployment fund of the chapter. The play is "Los Jitanos" and was written by John Steven McGroarty. The cast will be headed by the leading characters in the Mission play and the orchestra from the Mission play also will furnish music for the performance.

The next meeting of the local lodge will be featured by a chicken dinner with William Maas acting as chef.

With the Pittsburgh Plate Glass company already owning property here and intimating preparations to build a plant when business conditions brighten and another firm interested in this locality as a possible site for a plant, Santa Ana is facing the possible opportunity of becoming one of the glass manufacturing centers on the Pacific coast.

According to George A. Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass company is interested in Santa Ana as a possible site for a western factory. The Libby-Owens-Ford Glass company manufactures window glass, some plate glass and specializes in glass dishes and cut glasses.

Several days ago word was received here that the Owens Illinois Glass company was negotiating for a plant in California. It was said that the negotiations centered about the plant of the Pacific Illinois Glass company but that nothing had been definitely settled.

Raymer immediately wired officials of the company suggesting consideration of this city as a possible location for the plant. The company replied that a deal had just been completed for a plant in Alameda, California and was not interested. It was later intimated that the Libby-Owens-Ford Glass company might be interested.

Raymer wired a similar offer to that organization and was informed by wire that while the company is not negotiating for a western plant at present it is interested in Santa Ana and would be glad to have any information that Raymer cared to present. Raymer said that a survey would be made immediately and necessary data forwarded to the company.

LEGION WOMEN WILL OBSERVE BI-CENTENNIAL

The Santa Ana American Legion auxiliary will contribute to the local observance of the Washington Bi-centennial anniversary with a program to be presented at that organization's annual membership dinner on February 18, it was decided at a meeting of the auxiliary yesterday. The dinner will bring to an official close the membership drive which opened November 1.

It was voted to present prizes again this year to junior high school students of this city contributing the best posters for the poppy sale backed annually by the auxiliary and scheduled for the latter part of May. Mrs. Ira Mercer was named chairman of this sale.

Mrs. Grover Fultz, Santa Ana, president of the Legion auxiliary chapters of the fifth area, addressed yesterday's meeting, reporting on the state executive meeting of the auxiliary which took place in San Francisco last Sunday. Mrs. Carol Marks of Los Angeles, state chairman of Americanization for the organization, who was to have spoken here yesterday, was still in the north and could not keep her engagement, members were informed.

The first meeting of the Placencia Co-Operative Orange association under the California Fruit Growers' exchange affiliation was held yesterday, starting at noon with a dinner at the Placencia American Legion post hall, with members of the auxiliary of the post serving.

The report of J. F. Hixon, manager, revealed that more than $140,000 of fruit had been shipped during the past year. This figure represents gross returns on sales. Like all other fruit shipped from Southern California, sizes were small and the report showed that the general marketing conditions had effected the Valencia market.

A new member of the board of directors is S. W. McCulloch, representative of the Placencia Fruit company, owner of more than 100 acres.

Other directors re-elected are J. W. Beatty, president; V. C. Stocking, secretary; A. J. Yorker and W. H. Bates. McCulloch is vice president.

Mrs. Henry served 10 people a five course luncheon for a total cost of 33 cents, after she had read grocery specials advertised in The Register. She had planned to spend 50 cents for the luncheon but at the conclusion of her shopping tour, found that she had six cents of the 50 cents left. Leftovers from the meal were estimated to be worth six cents, so the entire meal cost just 33 cents. Here is the menu:

Fruit cocktail, consisting of four oranges, one apple and banana, three cents; soup, broth from meat, nothing; crotons, consisting three slices of stale bread, one-half cent; two heads of lettuce, one cent; cold slaw, three cents; three pounds of brisket meat, 15 cents; flour for dumplings, five cents; three bunches of carrots, three cents; pound of baking potatoes, two cents; bread, two cents; butter substitute, one and one-half cent; tea, sugar, and cream, three cents; jelly, half of bananas, five cents; total, 44 cents. Leftovers, six cents.

FACTS ANSWER RUMORS ABOUT RELIEF WORK

Workers who are employed by the county in its job relief program do not pay truck drivers 50 cents a day or any other sum for transportation to and from their road work. Rumors in this respect were investigated by The Register through Welfare Director Byron Curry, who stated that the county itself provides transportation for workers who are not able to supply it for themselves.

Another rumor, to the effect that the supposed contributions by workers gave some truck drivers incomes of as much as $21 a day, was said to be entirely false by Curry. He said that the county provides transportation, where needed and that it bears the expense at about 25 cents per seat.

A central "depot" has been set up between Anaheim and Fullerton where the men gather to meet the trucks, Curry said.

In some cases the work is close enough so that the men can get there without county transportation, Curry said. Men who drive to the jobs sometimes take others with them in their cars and those men pay the car owner about 10 cents each for passage, he pointed out.

Another rumor has gained credence to the effect that the men are paid $3.50 a day instead of $2.50 but that they turn back one dollar a day as their contribution to the fund for providing work to the Community Chest. Curry stated that there is no foundation for this rumor.

Single men or men who can leave their families are assigned to work at camps in the Silverado canyon or Trabuco canyon, he said, and they remained there for periods of their assignments.

DRIVES TOO FAST

Oscar Newman, Stanton man, was arrested by sheriff's officers last night and lodged in the county jail on a drunk charge, after he is reported to have driven his car around a corner at Stanton so fast that the machine overturned. The man was not injured.

SCHOOL CLUBS STUDY RESULT OF ROWDYISM

Following acts of rowdiness during the presentation of one-act plays at the high school auditorium Wednesday night, a committee of Lathrop Junior High school department heads today began a study of student clubs, feeling that the present club system has not produced desirable results in the development of hobbies and in furthering specific abilities of pupils.

The demonstrations at the high school resulted in a public rebuke for the students from Ernest Crozier Phillips, play director.

Teachers feel that training in proper conduct at public gatherings is necessary in view of what happened at the school this week. Practical courses in conduct are being considered for the periods previously given over to clubs. A plan suggestion was for the physical education department to absorb such club activities as archery, individual and social games, aesthetic and tap dancing, and tennis, while the English and social science departments would absorb the drama, public speaking, journalism, parliamentary law and similar clubs.

COUNTY ASSESSOR DECLARES RUMOR OF ADDITIONAL CUT IN VALUATIONS IS FALSE

County Assessor James Sleeper today characterized as a "dirty political falsehood" a statement appearing in certain newspapers outside Santa Ana relative to unfounded rumors that he planned another 10 per cent reduction in assessed valuations. He declared that the statement was made for the purpose "of throwing a smoke screen out to hide the real purpose of the city" of Fullerton doing its own assessing instead of continuing the practice of having the county do it.

Sleeper's statement follows:

"To the Taxpayers of Fullerton city:

"In answer to a recent article which stated the following:

Last year Assessor James Sleeper reduced assessed valuations 10 per cent. This year he has intimated that another 10 per cent reduction is in prospect and possibly a 20 per cent reduction. This is entirely a political move on his part to force the supervisors to raise the tax rate to provide sufficient funds to meet actual needs of county government, thus placing them in an unpleasant position.

Why should Fullerton suffer because of a county political fight. We could assess on the same basis as that of last year with the same rate, without an increase in taxes, and still offer the same service the city government has given the community and which the citizens have come to expect," W. B. Potter declared.

Is Falsehood

"In the first place this statement is a dirty political falsehood and is made for the purpose of throwing a smoke screen out to hide the real purpose of the city doing its own assessing. As a matter of fact, it is done for the purpose of placing a greater burden on the taxpayers, who are already carrying more of a burden than they are able to now. Fully 40 per cent of our taxpayers are wondering where they are going to get the money to pay their second installment of taxes due in April.

"Anyone with just a little intellect knows that I had no justification whatsoever to hold assessed valuations up to where they were in 1930 when property has decreased in value from 25 to 50 per cent. Ask any property owner who is trying to sell his property if this is not a fact.

Taxpayers Not Complain "The only complaints I have ever had for lowering assessments is from the tax spenders, not from the taxpayers as the cut in valuations saved the taxpayers or Orange county $852,131.17 this year. This as you know paves the tax spenders as it curtails the amounts some of them have been getting to do politics with.

"The truth of the matter is this, there is a little hand-picked bunch with headquarters in your neighboring city that wants to be political bosses and will stoop to anything to injure any county official they cannot control. I have never been dictated to by any man or group of men in the past 21 years and never will be as I am working for all the people of this county and will do my duty no matter what the result.

"I have never been against any city doing its own assessing as we seldom have a complaint from the taxpayers, where the city does its assessing as their values as a rule are so much higher than the county valuation that they do not complain of our valuations."

FEDERAL OFFICERS SEIZE RUM IN RAID

Federal prohibition officers captured two automobiles and 60 cases of Scotch whiskey, south of San Clemente, on the Coast highway at 3 a. m. today, according to information obtained by The Register.

The liquor was not brought here but was taken on in to Los Angeles for disposal, it was reported.

The landing of the liquor was made from small boats off the coast line at a secluded cove and when the cars started away with the haul, were overtaken by the federal officers. The drivers of the cars escaped by running away in the darkness.

Dr. Ballard To Speak On Mental Hygiene Tonight

Dr. J. Hudson Ballard of Occidental college will deliver the last of a series of four lectures here tonight. These lectures have been delivered under the joint sponsorship of the adult education department and the Junior College-High school P.-T. A. The lecture will be delivered in the high school auditorium and will start at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Ballard has announced the topic for discussion tonight as "Mental Hygiene." This will tie in to his other three talks and form a forceful climax to the series. While there has been a strong connecting link between them each lecture in the series has been a unit in itself and carried a full message of inspiration and self-understanding.

BASTANCHURY RANCH CROP TO GO TO OIL CO.

As a result of a hearing before Superior Judge James L. Allen yesterday, the Standard Oil Company is to be allowed to have possession of the present crop on the Bastanchury ranch near Fullerton, which went into the hands of a receiver on October 3, to satisfy a crop mortgage.

The hearing was continued to tomorrow at 10 a. m. when the report of Receiver Edgar Spear will be the subject of a hearing. Objections to his report will be heard at that time.

The Bastanchury company has filed a written objection to the report asking that approximately $53,000 alleged to have been collected by the receiver be turned over to it. The majority of this sum represents money collected for crops picked prior to the time the receivership went into effect, the objection said. This was the reason for the request that the money be turned over to the Bastanchury company.

Attorneys for bondholders who claim to have a trust deed against the property appeared yesterday and submitted a motion to vacate the order appointing the receiver. The ground for this motion was the assertion that the trust deed was a prior lien. It was explained that a default on the bonds had occurred this month but that the bondholders could not exercise their trust deed lien before that time because there was no default. They claimed that because the trust deed was a prior lien the bondholders were entitled to their own receiver. The motion has not been ruled upon.

Asks Damages for Injuries Received Carrying Springs

Proper co-ordination is necessary when two persons are carrying a bed spring, it was indicated in a complaint filed in superior court today in which $5000 damages were asked by Jennie Hanson for injuries she said she received while engaged in transporting one of these articles of furniture.

The plaintiff was on the front end of the spring, walking backward, and Mrs. L. A. Cusick, manager of the Sunshine hotel at Orange, was carrying the rear end. They were taking the object up some steps at the Sunshine hotel, where the plaintiff worked as a maid at $10 a week, when the speed of the spring suddenly increased and caused the plaintiff to fall, the complaint related. She suffered an injury to her left knee.

The Western Loan and Building company was made defendant in the case, the complaint stating that it was in possession of and managing the Sunshine hotel during February and March, 1931. The accident happened on March 15.

Pleads Not Guilty On Speeding Count

C. Parnell, Los Angeles business man, who is accused of speeding 61 miles an hour along the Santa Ana boulevard on January 2, and then failing to answer to the summons handed him by State Highway Patrol Officer Ernie Sawyer pleaded not guilty to both counts in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today.

Through his attorneys, Z. R. West Jr. and Charles Swanner, Turner asked for a jury trial on both charges. The trial on the speeding charge was set for February 18, and the trial on a charge of failure to appear for February 23.

Justice Morrison demanded bail of $250 in each case which was made by Turner.

Should Labor Bear the Cross Alone?

Is it fair, or just, or righteous, that unskilled labor should bear, alone, the cross of wage reduction, by having wages reduced from $4 per day to $2.50 per day, a cut of approximately 40 per cent?

Superior judges in Orange county receive $7,000 per year. A 40 per cent cut would bring this salary down to $4,200 per year.

If these judges are willing to take a 40 per cent cut in their own salaries, then they can consistently support a reduction of labor to $2.50 per day. If not, they should exert all their influence to maintain the $4 rate for the laboring man.

The five members of the Board of Supervisors last year drew $12,728 as county salaries, an average of $2,545 per man.

If the supervisors are willing to reduce their own salaries 40 per cent—down to $1,527 per year, then they might be justified in asking labor to take a cut, though the supervisors get their salaries for part time. Otherwise, the workers may very reasonably ask: Should labor bear the cross ALONE?

We do not ask or even suggest that such cuts in salaries be made. We are simply using these to show how this reduction appears when applied to others.

Other county officials last year received the following salaries:

County tax assessor	$4,321.37
County auditor	3,761.81
Agricultural commissioner	4,800.00
County farm advisor	3,293.00
Coroner and public administrator	3,147.80
County clerk	4,202.26
District attorney	4,321.37
County recorder	3,480.89
Sheriff	3,400.00
County tax collector	3,761.81
County treasurer	3,600.00
Probation officer	3,000.00
Director, social welfare	3,575.00
Superintendent County hospital	6,999.96
County health officer	4,750.00
Purchasing agent	3,600.00

All of these officials, and all others not listed, should strenuously oppose starvation wages for labor, unless they are willing to take similar salary reductions themselves.

SUCH MANNERS!

LOS ANGELES—A lesson in manners and a 180-day jail sentence was handed to J. Kerns, vagrant, by Judge Ida May for his impudence. In his trial Kerns insisted on addressing Judge Adams as anything but "Your Honor." He called her "Judge" and "ma'am," but refused to use the correct title. As a result he received 180 days in jail instead of the usual 30-day sentence, which is usually suspended if the defendant agrees to leave the city.

BAN ON "IMPORTERS" MEXICO CITY—Senator Amal-ia Rojas has written to Gen. Rafael E. Melgar, president of the Nationalistic Campaign Committee, to do what he can to stop an ancient custom of Mexican mothers. This custom is that of telling children when they reach the inquisitive age, that they were imported from Paris, Venice, Berlin, Moscow, New York, or some other large city. She advocates telling them they were brought from some Mexican city.

NEW BOOKS IN PUBLIC LIBRARY

N. V. Tcharykow saw many revolutionary changes taking place during his lifetime. He was born during the Crimean war. Since that time he saw the freeing of the serfs under Alexander II, the growth of the revolutionary spirit, the revolution of 1917, and the workings of the Bolshevik regime. He served his country both as soldier and as a diplomat, being ambassador at Constantinople from 1908 to 1912. In his autobiography, "Glimpses of High Politics," he tells of this period.

These memoirs are written in English. As a boy of 10 their author was sent to school in Edinburgh, where he remained for four years and became so thoroughly acquainted that he forgot his Russian and won a prize for English composition.

This autobiography gives not only a clear image of the writer, but also, through his intimate association with some of the chief actors, a picture of the political events which form a background to his life. By turns a reformer, soldier, political agent, ambassador and acting foreign minister, the author says much of life both in Russia and abroad. He was the friend of three Tsars and was acquainted with many of Russia's statesmen before the war.

The book will furnish the student of "high politics" with no new facts of importance; but the ordinary reader will find in them a remarkably vivid picture of a new distant past. He will find, also, that he can extract a good deal of miscellaneous information from this book with a minimum of trouble. It is a most attractive volume of reminiscences which will appeal to many classes of readers.

In these days of troubled thought and complicated need, a full, simple statement of the perplexities of life, of work, of play, of passion, and of love should find a wide and enthusiastic public. "How to Be Happy Though Human," by N. V. Tcharykow, is a sound and stimulating addition to the list of popularly written books on morals and psychology.

Dr. Wolfe is not a faddist. He not only shows the strains and stresses that may twist and overturn the normal conduct of human beings, but he dwells on practical remedies. He builds from his first brilliant chapter, "Living as a Fine Art," to his conclusion, "The Triumph of Maturity." It is this that he stresses throughout, how a man or woman may achieve the most usefulness, happiness and poise with a given personality, what they can do to adjust their own psychological equipment to their own needs. Most books on "How to Live" are largely theory. This volume deals clearly and practically with the problems of life. It tells you, in effect, what use to make of your own personality to achieve the greatest effectiveness and happiness.

In his preface, Dr. Wolfe says, "This book contains no magic formula for the attainment of happiness, nor does it purport to present a panacea for all conceivable human disappointments and chagrins. It offers no guarantee, nor does it advance any claim to completeness. It is written for men and women who are not afraid of ideas, for those fighting optimists who believe that human happiness is attainable and for those who prefer to live in the conscious knowledge of life's implications, rather than to 'muddle through' it by a process of unconscious vegetation."

The four adventuring musketeers of "Green Hell" by Julian Duguid set out to traverse again an old Spanish route through a South American jungle that had not been followed in its entirety for some 200 years. They are a Latin-American diplomat; a wild English photographer; a sort of Russian Kit Carson, transplanted by fortune halfway around the world to the long rivers and limitless forests of this section and knowing them as intimately as any man can; and, finally, the civilized, utterly charming young author.

Death walked at their elbows. The lovely, lovely, sinister, green jungle closed in relentlessly about and above them. Their other enemies were hostile Indians, as silent as the forest, hovering on their flanks; South American tigers; vampire bats; hunger and thirst; clouds of mosquitoes; and, smallest and fiercest of all, swarms of infinitesimal black flies torturing men and beasts 24 hours of the day. The adventurers got through—they were that kind.

Their journey was a miracle, a miracle of daring, of endurance, of battle, of floods, draughts, hostile Indians, maddening insects, and not the least of all a miracle of comradeship. One of the finest things about this stirring book is the feeling of unselfish sportsmanship and good humor which made of these men an inseparable band. The writing is sheer wizardry. It

HEALTH FUND DRIVE FALLS SHORT OF GOAL

Completed up to and including January 16, 1932, Mrs. Amelia A. Meagher, executive secretary of the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association, has submitted a report on the result of Christmas Seal sales. This report, covering the entire county shows that the sale has returned approximately half the amount required to carry on this organization's work during the year.

The budget for the year's work, which includes maintenance of the Children's Health Camp in Santiago canyon, was set at $20,000. To date $10,447.84 has been turned in to the treasury as a result of the seal sale. In Santa Ana the desired quota was $7350 of which $3921.62 has already been subscribed.

In Santa Ana there were 9718 letters sent out with Christmas seals in them at the beginning of the drive. Of that number there were 3145 responded to with cash enclosed, 4855 returned without cash and 1718 have not yet been replied to.

Mrs. Meagher is appealing to those people who have not replied to their letters to send in their contributions. She said that it is not too late to help the cause. She said that the association, today, is carrying the greatest load since organization and many people who hitherto have been self-supporting are now looking to the association for free service. Unless sufficient funds are secured the organization will be forced to refuse aid to many, she reported.

Under the old age pension act which is now in effect in New Jersey, the state will be called on to expend $2,756,250 in 1932 with the counties paying $918,750 additional.

SPEAKING OF ALL-AMERICANS --

G-R-R-R, Woof, Woof! Dogdom has just selected its 1931 All-America football team from the Bow Wow Conference. The judges claim there was never a more talented or harder hitting team of Spring Spaniel footballers. The backfield, above, is extremely fast while the line, below, is a stonewall against any offense. Mrs. Lois Tolliver of Omaha, Neb., is head coach of the All-America squad and hopes to arrange a game with the Kitty-Cat Conference All-Stars.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM TO BE FEATURED

One of the features of the Saturday broadcast over radio KREG will be the Adult Education program to go on the air at 12:30 p. m. This program will be directed by Mrs. Golden Weston who will make all announcements in addition to reading several poems.

A vocal duet, featuring Mary Graves Hamill and Chloe Costello, will be the opening number with Art Cauden, studio pianist, for KREG accompany the singers at the piano. Dolly Hyn, accompanied by Miss M. Ralph at the piano, will present a group of violin numbers. All participants in the program are members of Adult Education classes in the local school system.

This program will follow the broadcast of late news by the United Press which is scheduled for 12:15 p. m.

At 12 o'clock noon, the Agricultural Extension service broadcast will go on the air for 15 minutes and will take up some phase of agriculture in Orange county. These programs directed by the Agricultural Extension service and the Orange county farm advisor's office are becoming very valuable to ranchers throughout the district. These talks all tend to greater efficiency and economy in the operation of orchard and farm.

CASTILIANS WILL HONOR DIRECTOR

Searching the Mexican musical libraries in Hollywood for genuine Mexican numbers to be played in this program, the Walker's Austex Chile people discovered a beautiful new song entitled "Chiquitita," which means in English, "Wee Little Girl." When the Castilians started rehearsing, it was found that "Chiquitita" was composed by Senor Rafael Gama, the piano player of the orchestra, so this program is dedicated to Senor Gama and it opens with his composition, "Chiquitita." "La Borrachita" is a loving name for "Little Drunkard" as it is said in Mexico. This popular Mexican song will be played by the Castilians just as it would be rendered down below the Rio Grande. Following this the Castilians play a "Toast to the Ladies." In Mexico it is called "Ole a Las Mujeres," and in that country they think it is "muy caliente" or very hot! "Julia," the name of a beautiful senorita, is the title of the closing number of the Castilians. It is a typical Mexican waltz.

The Walker's Austex Chile Company of Austin, Texas, has just been chartered by the State of Texas as successor to the Walker Properties Association, a partnership which had its beginning in 1914 at Austin. The firm name was changed to incorporate the trademark, "Walker's Austex," which appears on its canned Mexican foods, which are sold in forty-two states of the country.

RADIO FEATURES

With Lily Pons, youthful French coloratura soprano who rose to fame overnight following her American debut last season, in the leading role, the second and third acts of "The Barber of Seville" will be broadcast direct from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City over a nationwide NBC network tomorrow, between 12:30 and 2:15 p. m. P.S.T. This broadcast is to be released by KECA and KFSD.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, assisted by stars of stage and radio, will broadcast a gala program from these cities over an NBC network tonight from 8:30 to 9:30 o'clock, inaugurating the organization's national membership drive. Paul Whiteman, Rudy Vallee, Odette Myrtil, and the United States Marine band will join with leaders in the V.F.W. and affiliated organizations in the 60-minute celebration. Congressman Wright Patman, of Texas, champion of World War veterans in Congressional battles for adjusted compensation, will be the chief speaker. The program may be heard from KFSD.

The Subject A examination, an examination in English composition required for entrance to Santa Ana Junior College, will be given Friday, January 28 at 9:00 a. m. in Room 11.—Adv.

Watch FAT After 30

Excess fat comes to many after 30. People gain weight and slow down. Medical science has found a great reason—lack of a certain gland secretion. Now doctors the world over supply that lacking factor. Thus excess fat, in late years, has been disappearing fast.

That factor is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. For 24 years, Marmola has brought to multitudes this right reduction method at small cost. Millions of boxes have been used, and users have told others. Now you see in every circle the new beauty, youth and vim which Marmola brings to people.

Stop starvation methods. Stop all methods out-of-date. Stop your druggist for Marmola. Do what modern doctors do. You will be delighted.

as dealer for

HUDSON AND ESSEX CARS

"Rightly, the public has come to expect 'big things' from Hudson. Through the years Hudson has led the way with a host of major advancements in the art of fine motor car manufacture. And never has this leadership been so strikingly evident as now.

"Our first glimpse of these new Hudson and Essex cars with their precedent-setting harmonizing of beauty with utility, of tremendous power with luxurious silence, of super-rugged construction with drawing-room comfort, convinced us, as it will convince you, that here truly are the 'Pacemakers' for 1932.

"It is with a great deal of pride and satisfaction, therefore, that we are here able to announce our selection as Hudson and Essex dealer for Santa Ana and vicinity.

"Please accept this as a personal invitation to visit our showrooms at your earliest convenience to inspect these splendid new cars and the thoroughly modern service facilities we are prepared to place at your disposal."

Paul Clark

"Deeply conscious of our obligation to the public and to the large body of Hudson and Essex owners in Santa Ana, it affords us unusual pleasure to be able to announce our appointment of Paul Clark as dealer for Hudson and Essex cars, the Pacemakers for 1932.

"The executives and personnel of Paul Clark are men in whose integrity and judgment we have every confidence.

"Hudson and Essex owners and the general public are thus assured of receiving from this new associate of ours a courtesy and square-dealing consideration in every way in keeping with the high standards of the nationwide Hudson reputation."

UNCLE SIDNEY TO AUCTION PROPERTY

Because he is planning to move Uncle Sidney will devote his first-aid program over radio KREG to night to an auction of his personal goods. The sale is scheduled to start at 7 o'clock.

Incidental music provided for those who attend the auction will be broadcast and lunch will be served by the Ladies aid.

Uncle Sidney will follow the playlet "Railroad Track Billionaires" on the air tonight. This episode of the popular radio playlet will be more complicated than any past offerings. No one knows what will happen to Professors DeGullem and his shepherd friend Horace next and many listeners are beginning to believe that the professor is in the same quandary.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON ON KREG

Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock the Rev. Franklin H. Minck, pastor of the Orange Christian church, will take charge of the microphone in the studio at KREG for the regular weekly Sunday school lesson discussion. The lesson to be discussed this week is "Jesus and the Samaritan Woman."

At 2:30 p. m. the Rev. Mr. Minck will again be on the air conducting the weekly Vesper services. The sermon topic for this week will be "The Fight Against Odds." Mrs. Melvin Fletcher, Hubert, soloist of the First Baptist church of Los Angeles, will assist with the services.

EXPERTS ENDORSE Successor to Whole Wheat Bread

LOOK FOR THIS WRAPPER!

"Wonder-Cut Wheat Bread easier to digest, far more delicious," they say. Praise Balanced-Blend.

WOMEN by thousands are acclaiming Wonder-Cut Wheat Bread as the successor to whole wheat bread. Now food experts join them. They find that Wonder-Cut Wheat Bread is far easier to digest than whole wheat bread. Tastes better, too. But you don't have to be a scientist to discover this. Just taste Wonder-Cut Wheat Bread. It actually tastes like cake—thanks to Balanced-Blend.

Balanced-Blend is the latest discovery in baking—the achievement of the Happy Wonder Bakers. It is the perfect blend, of short-patent and choice stone-ground whole wheat flours, discovered after two years of patient research. It makes Wonder-Cut Wheat Bread the finest-tasting bread anyone can serve. Fully nourishing. And, unlike whole wheat bread, utterly lacking in harshness.

Give your family a permanent vacation from tasteless whole wheat bread. Treat them to Wonder-Cut Wheat Bread—the bread they'll eat because they like it. At your grocer's. Oven-fresh. Remember the important name—Wonder-Cut Wheat Bread!

The Secret of BALANCED-BLEND

No baking discovery of recent years equals Balanced-Blend in true importance. Balanced-Blend is simple enough. Just the perfect blend of short-patent and choice stone-ground whole wheat flours. But its results are revolutionary. It has created a new kind of bread—Wonder-Cut Wheat Bread, far better than any whole wheat bread can ever be. The kind of bread anyone may be proud to serve. The kind of bread that's best for you and your family.

Wind-tunnel tests on model airplanes show the dare-devil jumpers how their own bodies can be used like the wing of a glider to soar to new records

Jumper bends at waist to cut air resistance.

Jumper leans forward at 45 degree angle as speed reaches 65 miles per hour and air currents lift body like a glider.

When the human body imitates an airplane. . . . A striking photograph showing perfect form in ski-jumping. . . . The jumper is Jacob Tullins Tham, who set a record at the last Olympic games with a jump of 243 feet.

By DONALD FAIR MORGAN

SKI jumping is the king of winter sports. There is a glamour and hero quality which attaches itself to these knights of the air who fly with skis for wings. Flights of this kind were made almost a hundred years before the principles of flight in heavier-than-air machines were recognized and put to test.

Spectators called these ski riders daredevils and acrobats. It remained for the aero-dynamical laboratories of modern aviation to put man to the same test as machine, to determine the air forces acting on the jumper and his skis, and pronounce the man-and-his-skis the first successful flying machine.

After recent tests similar to those made on model planes in the Curtiss wind tunnels it was discovered that air forces with such technical import as lift, braking force, and the point of application of the resultant forces determined the success or failure of a man flying with skis for wings.

This conveys the practical information that the success of a ski jumper in increasing the length of his flights through air depends on the way in which he puts these forces to use, once launched into space from the tower at 60 or 70 miles an hour.

The holding of the 1932 Olympic Winter Games at Lake Placid in February marks the lifting of this daring sport to a high place on the American scene. It is thrilling, dynamic sport.

THE ski jumper climbs, wheezing from breath-taking exertions, the side of a preposterous mountain which seems to shoot up to the heavens. He mounts hundreds of steps to the top of a 70-foot tower, where he stands limned against the clouds awaiting the call of a bugle which heralds his turn to jump.

Skis are buckled on. The clear notes of a bugle sound from the judges' stand, and the ski rider steps fearlessly into the snowy runway. With a graceful swoop, crouching almost double, he goes flying down that precipitous incline with the speed of a shooting star.

He gathers momentum with the rush of wind. He approaches the take-off, the leap into space down the mountainside, at 60, 70 miles an hour.

Like a bird before flight he seems to pause for an instant before the leap, but is thrown suddenly upward against the sky, body rigid, arms out, head proudly erect, soaring over the platform edge and into the thin, cold air.

Wh-r-r-r! Skis parallel, with a wand-like motion of the arms to hurl him faster forward and keep his balance, he hurtles over the brow of the hill. In the mad flight of a second he bends from the waist, and his body tips forward with a sudden planing effect like that of a glider in swift descent—tips forward until it seems that his head will touch the end of his skis. It is the glider technique.

THE skis strike the snow with an audible impact, leaping forward one in advance of the other. From the crouching position of his rush down the lower hill he straightens gradually, trying the intensity of that delicate balance, steadies himself, and shoots down to the level area to execute a skillful stop-turn which sends up a geyser of snow behind him.

The snow blurs, and the jumper turns to face the judges again. A deep silence hangs over the spectators, awaiting the announcement of the distance. Two hundred and one feet! This is the record jump of Sigurd Ulland on the Olympic hill at Lake Placid, where will be held the Olympic ski jumping tournament this February.

Although Ulland was only 20 years old and had only one year of competitive history behind him, he was the sensation of the national tournament at Brattleboro, Vermont, when he introduced this new aero-dynamic theory of ski jumping to America. Ulland had a fall during the meet, which resulted in broken ribs and a broken toe, but four days later he came to Lake Placid and set this Olympic hill record.

Endurance flights in ski jumping have been pushed up in less than 30 years from modest flights of 50 feet to 270. The new world's record was made in Germany last season by the Norwegian jumper, Birger Ruud, who is one of Norway's entrants in the 1932 Olympic Winter Games.

The world's record he broke was made on the famed Revelstoke hill in the Canadian Rockies by Nels Nelsen, who attained a speed at the take-off which was estimated to be over 110 miles an hour.

WHEN will the records come to an end? Will the ski jumper, utilizing the new aero-dynamic theory of Slope at take-off, 6 degrees.

Speed at take-off, 60 miles per hour.

200 FT.

250 FT.

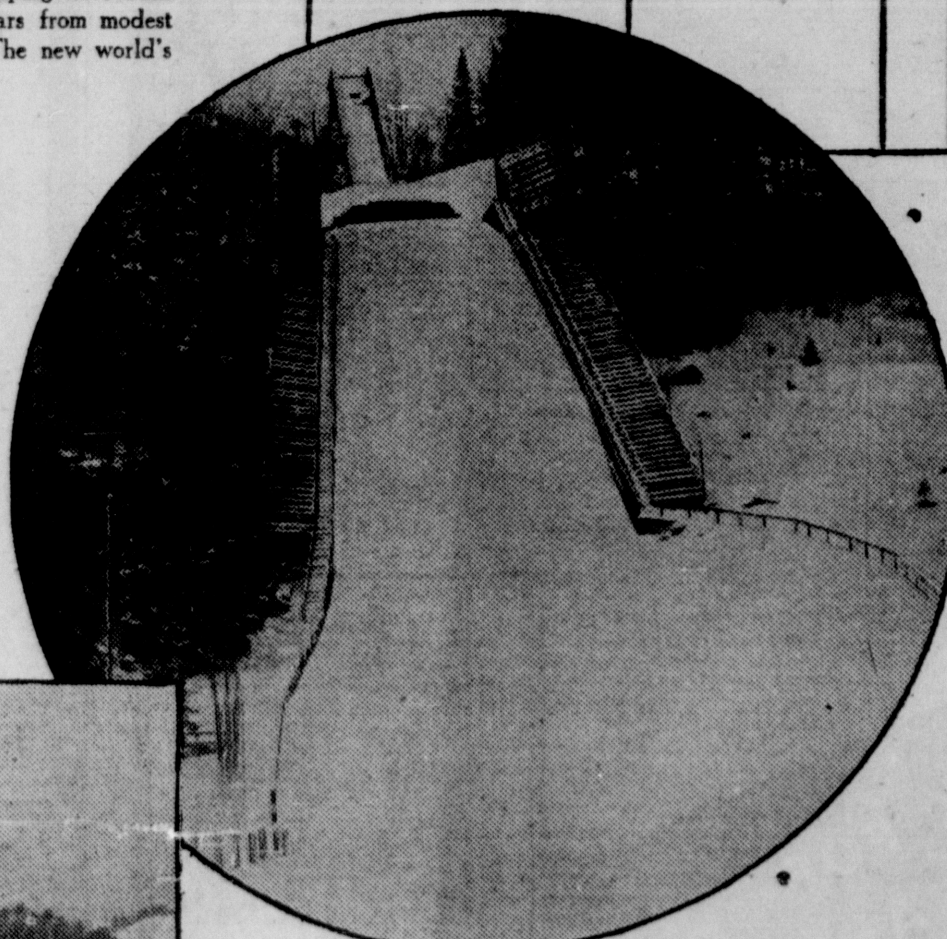

Speed rises to 70 miles per hour and jumper leans farther forward to get a planing effect that keeps him longer in the air.

Jumper lands, 200 feet from take-off; impact is reduced to a minimum by 40 degree slope of snow-covered incline.

The danger zone—slope is more gradual here and jumper may be badly hurt if he jumps this far.

This diagram shows how a ski-jump is actually accomplished. . . . Note how the jumper, after taking off at the foot of the incline, throws his body forward to make the air resistance help keep him aloft. . . . And note, too, how his safety depends on his landing on a steep slope of the hill.

The out-run, which ends about 700 feet from the tower.

after the impact with the snow. 300 feet? Possible. How much farther?

Flights on skis would reach a theoretical limit only when the distance is so great that the impact with the hill, on landing, would shatter the bones in the jumper's body.

But with the pushing of the record above 250 feet there is growing in the International Ski Federation a definite movement to restrict the championship jumps to a range around 200 feet, for the best interests of the sport.

Every hill has its limitations (beyond which point the impact would be too great for the human body), which can be estimated with accuracy. The distance of 200 feet affords the jumper every opportunity to display his skill, courage and form to the best advantage.

THE Olympic ski hill at Lake Placid is the most perfectly engineered in the world for distances up to 200 feet. It was carefully designed to minimize the danger of overjumping the hill, a peril which remains with these greater distances within the athletic ability of the contestants.

In the mind of the casual observer, after glimpses into the daring sport through the news reels, which show only a breathtaking flash of the flight through air, there remains amazement and mystery at the ski jumper's feat. It seems that the jumper, a super-human, an acrobat, has survived a fall of 200 feet—because, it has been explained by the talkies, "the snow is so much softer than hard ground!"

The mystery is easily dispelled. The problem of bringing a ski jumper safely to earth again, after he has been launched into air at 60 miles an hour, is an engineering feat of the highest order. There must be, under the jumper, a curve in the hill very nearly corresponding to the path of his flight.

The skis on landing will then meet the snow at such a small angle that the impact will be slight—if any impact be regarded as slight which results from a body being hurled at 60 miles an hour through 200 feet of space!

The danger of overjumping the hills was strikingly illustrated in the 1928 Winter Olympic Games at St. Moritz. Early in the meet the Norwegians, who have always dominated the ski jumping, complained unceasingly that their best jumpers were certain to overjump the hill.

ON the final day they refused to start from the top of the hill, fearing too great a speed at the take-off. As a compromise, they were allowed to start from a rope some distance down the runway. But even this precaution did not prevent what had been foreseen as a danger.

The 1924 Olympic champion, Jacob Tullins

Tham, employing the new aero-dynamic theory of ski jumping for the first time in competition, jumped farther than man had ever jumped before.

It was a spectacular leap and executed with superb form, but the impact was so great that he was unable to retain his balance and suffered a fall which might easily have been fatal. He overjumped the hill which had been engineered for maximum jumps around 200 feet.

Tham jumped 243. This is a hazard in ski jumping which pushes skill and courage to the fore. The element of risk is always present, for the farther a man jumps the harder he falls toward the end of his flight through air.

It is the skill of the jumper (the way in which he handles his body and skis in the flight through air) which determines the success or failure of a jump. And it is in the jumpers themselves that real human interest centers. Surely there is the hardy blood of Vikings in these youths who smilingly hurl themselves down the sides of mountains with the speed and grace of an eagle's flight.

THE hero of the St. Moritz tournament was not Alf Anderson of Norway, who won, but a modest American youth, Rolf Monsen, who placed only sixth in the Olympic jump, but was far and away the hero of the meet.

Suffering from training injuries that would have kept less stout hearts out of the competition, he took the jumps in splendid form despite the pain, and on all sides was acclaimed the star. He is one of America's hopes in the 1932 Winter Games at Lake Placid.

The Norwegians have always dominated in ski jumping, their national sport. Time was when Norwegian was the official language of the American championship jumps. The selection of Charles Proctor of Dartmouth College for the American skiing team at St. Moritz in 1928 was the first definite proof that American youth was coming to the fore.

At the 1932 tournament the Scandinavians will find themselves confronted with a formidable array of ski jumpers representing the United States. Familiarity with the Olympic hill affords them an even chance on this occasion, and should they win either the ski jumping or the combined event, ski jumping and ski racing, Norway's supremacy may be ended.

150 County Teachers Enjoy Program In Clubhouse

LECTURE GIVEN ON ASTRONOMY: REPORTS GIVEN

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—With about 150 members and guests in attendance, the monthly meeting of the Orange County Principals' and Teachers' association was held last night in the Orange Woman's clubhouse. Preceding the program, dinner was served by members of the ways and means committee of the Woman's club, who had appointed the tables in keeping with Valentine's day.

Frank Halstead, of Duluth, Minn., was the speaker of the evening, giving an illustrated lecture on "Astronomy." Other talks were given by M. A. Gauer, of Anaheim, George Sherwood, of Orange, and Mr. Martin of Anaheim, who spoke on "The Teachers' Tenure Law."

During the dinner hour, a violin trio from the Orange Union High school gave several numbers. Members of the group were Kenneth Stowell, Raymond McCall and Harold Walworth, with Miss Genevieve Goble as piano accompanist. Miss Pauline Thompson, of Orange, gave violin numbers, accompanied at the piano by Miss Alice Feine, also of Orange.

D. Russell Parks, of El Modena, gave a report of California P.-T. A. conferences. A burlesque, "O Hamlet, O Hamlet, Where Have You Been," was given by Orange teachers.

During the evening, many of the group signed petitions asking that the regents of the University of California at Los Angeles offer graduate work.

E. R. Barry invited the association to hold its February meeting in La Habra. Announcement was made that the executive board session will be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the office of Superintendent Ray Adkinson in Santa Ana.

W. H. Bonney, of Anaheim, president of the association, presided during the evening.

HER OWN BOSS NOW

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—Antonette Johnson, Palm Beach social registerite, is a good business head. So good is she that she has been awarded the right to handle her own affairs although still a minor—18. She sought permission to manage her own personal property and real estate, and a bank president and architect testified as to her ability.

12 Pounds Of Grapefruit On One Stem

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Twelve pounds of grapefruit on display in the office window of O. M. Rodick, 107 West Chapman avenue, are proving of great interest to many in the community. Clustered together on one stem approximately one-half inch in diameter are 20 full grown grapefruit weighing 12 pounds. They were grown by Dian Gardner, East Taft avenue rancher.

Play Is Read By Villa Park Club

VILLA PARK, Jan. 22.—The meeting of the Shakespeare club was held at the lovely ranch home of Mrs. D. R. Gardner on Taft avenue Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Gardner gave a review on the life of William Shakespeare. The second act of "The Merry Wives of Windsor" was read. The Shakespearean picture left the club by the late I. Lea Collins was on exhibition for the first time. It is a large steel engraving. For the present the picture will be hung in the home of Mrs. Mary Morningstar.

Guests of the club were Mrs. George Peterson and Mrs. E. B. Workman, of Orange. Members present were Miss Elizabeth Lee, Mrs. William Rathgave, Miss Margaret Holditch, Mrs. Mary Morningstar, Miss Minnie Terrell, Mrs. Elma Lee, Mrs. Ellen Holditch, Mrs. H. H. Gardner, Mrs. H. T. Thomas, of Santa Ana canyon, and the hostess, Mrs. D. R. Gardner.

Baptist Women In All Day Session

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Women of the Baptist church held an all day meeting yesterday in the church, devoting the morning to White Cross work and the afternoon to Bible study. Some of the articles will be distributed to the needy through the Baptist Christian center in Los Angeles.

Mrs. H. F. Shearer was in charge of the Bible study, given on the subject of "Names of Deity." This was taken up at the last all day session, and will be continued at the meeting next week.

About 12 members were present to take part in the affair. A covered dish luncheon was served at noon, with the Rev. H. F. Shearer, pastor of the church, and W. A. Gribble as special guests.

CITES NEED OF SOUTH AMERICAN MISSIONARIES

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Explaining that the need for missions in South America is greater than it is in any other country, Mrs. Jay E. Davenport, who is spending the winter in Orange, spoke yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church held in the adult auditorium.

Mrs. Davenport is more recently of Venezuela, where she and her husband were missionaries for several years. She said that although Spain has been in South America with her churches for 400 years, the women of the country have no morals and the great majority of the people are ignorant.

In districts where there are electric lights and many modern conveniences, there are no trained nurses, the speaker said. She continued to say that the need for missionaries is greater in South America than it is in such countries as China and India.

During the business meeting, in charge of Miss Flo Scarritt, nominating and calendar committees were appointed. Mrs. F. M. Gulick, Mrs. Elmer Hayward and Mrs. Parker Robertson were named to nominate officers and Mrs. Alma Dilley, Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. Robert Burns McAulay were appointed members of the calendar group. Election will take place at the February meeting.

Plans were made for the annual thanksgiving and missionary luncheon to be held February 19 in the church, when over 300 are expected to be present. There will be a group of some 60 hostesses.

Devotional were led by Mrs. R. W. Jones, whose topic was "Our Neighbor."

Methodist Church Presents Musical Program Sunday

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—A varied musical program has been planned for the Sunday evening service at the Methodist church. It was announced today by Mrs. George Harper. This will include an anthem "The Wondrous Cross," by King, given by the Young People's choir.

Howard Davis will give a solo, "Service," and Raymond McCall will play a violin solo, "Air for G String," by Bach. The Girls' quartet will sing "Eternity," by Bilhorn. Members of the quartet include the Misses Virginia Lee Harper, Lora Lee McCall, Elizabeth Crawford and Mary Robinson.

It has been announced that the musical groups of the church will begin practicing for the Easter programs tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock in the church.

CLOSE CALL

COLUMBUS, O.—H. S. Hazgrove's taxi had been stolen. Patrolman Waldo Barr and Bill Hill found it, and Barr climbed into it while Hill looked for the thieves. As Barr sat in the cab another taxi driver saw it and hurried away for reinforcements. He returned with six or seven cab drivers who nearly mobbed Barr before they discovered his identity.

CONDITIONS IN ORIENT CITED BY DEAN FSKE

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Naming historical facts which have led to the present situation in Manchuria, and pointing out the viewpoints of both the Japanese and Chinese people regarding the dispute, Dean McKee of Santa Ana Junior college, spoke last night at the Orange Christian church.

Dr. Graham Hunter was to have given a talk at this time, but was unable to fill the engagement because of illness, it was announced by the church pastor, the Rev. Franklin H. Minck. Dr. Hunter will continue his series of talks on Russia next Thursday evening on "The Amazing Spirit of the Russian Youth."

Fisk stated that the dispute between Japan and China is fundamentally a question of legal and moral right. Japan has the legal right to go in to Manchuria to protect her people, just as United States looks after the interests of citizens in China, he said. Knowing this is true, and that most countries have observed a similar policy, it makes it difficult for the League of Nations to assert itself, he continued.

On the other hand, China does not commit herself as to whether or not Japan has the legal right. She does assert, however, that Japan has no moral right to carry on as she is.

As the force of arms cannot be effected in bringing the two countries to peace, there should be some other method, Fisk continued. Public opinion of some nations might effect Japan; but not the opinion of the United States, he said, as America lost out with Japan when she passed the exclusion act of 1924.

An economic boycott could be made effective, the speaker said, a boycott such as China planned for Japan a few years back.

However, he continued, the United States can have little to say in the matter. Her government has dealt with other governments on a non-Christian basis; has spent over 70 per cent of national expenditures in the prosecution of past or future wars; has used its legal rights at all times, he declared. Japan has tried to follow in its footsteps, he said.

Fisk said that the contentions between Japan and China have to do with the scope and character of the Japanese political and administrative rights; with the validity and intentionality of the 1915 treaty rights; with the rights of Japan in telling certain Chinese troops not to enter Manchuria.

With the conclusion of the talk, the Rev. Mr. Minck announced that the meeting next Thursday night will begin at 7:15 o'clock instead of 7 o'clock.

Chamber Appeals To Commission for Traffic Regulation

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Asking that traffic regulation of some kind be provided for the junction of the state highway No. 101 and Santa Ana boulevard, was the letter sent yesterday to the state railroad commission by V. D. Johnson, secretary of the Orange Community Chamber of Commerce. The board of directors requested that the letter be sent.

The letter stated that the chamber of commerce has realized that something should be done to remedy the situation ever since the new boulevard was completed, that several accidents, three of which resulted in almost serious injuries for the parties concerned, have occurred there, and that in justice to the public and citizens of Orange, steps should be taken to decrease the hazard.

At their meeting this week, members of the Orange city council passed a resolution favoring regulation of traffic at the intersection of the highway and Santa Ana boulevard. This was forwarded to the state highway commission.

Examinations Due For High School Students In Week

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Semester activities will conclude next week for Orange Union High school students, who will have final examinations January 28 and 29. Regular classes will be in session the first three days, with assembly period taking place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

The assembly program will be given by the Rillbrow sextet of colored singers, who appeared at the high school last year. They were featured in the picture "Hearts in Dixie" and are well known for their plantation songs, spirituals, dialect readings, and other numbers, it is said.

There will be a Girls' league meeting Wednesday, with Prudence Penny, of Los Angeles, as the speaker. Dining room etiquette, party manners and other topics will be discussed. Also she will talk before members of the homemaking class during period seven, using "Poise" as her subject.

Mrs. Griffith Is Hostess To Club

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Rainbow club members met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Arley Griffith, North Glassell street. Following an afternoon of sewing and conversation, dainty refreshments were served by the hostess and her daughters, Mrs. Loren White and Miss Mildred Griffith. Violets were used in decorating for the occasion.

Those present were Mesdames D. W. Keiser, L. E. Ralls, Anna Greene, W. A. Moore, Claudina Boyer, Abbie Kenyon, Martha E. McDaniel, Irene Erwin, W. D. Moore, Clarice Eyster, C. A. McGill, the hostess, Mrs. Griffith, and guests including Miss Carry, Mrs. White and son, Dwayne, and Miss Mildred Griffith.

JOINT MEETING OF CLUBS HELD ON FEBRUARY 3

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Plans for a joint meeting of Orange, Santa Ana and Anaheim Twenty-Three clubs to be held February 3 at the Orient cafe were announced this week at a meeting of the Orange club, with Melvin Clement presiding.

Such joint meetings have been held monthly for some time, and members of the three groups are to express their opinions as to how often such gatherings should take place. Some members are in favor of holding the meetings only four or five times a year, it was said.

Dr. W. C. Leitch, Bill Mueller and V. C. Wolfe were appointed as members of a committee to make arrangements for a proposed theater party.

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—In entertaining members of the 1919 club yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Paul Parker, of Long Beach, was hostess in the home of Mrs. George Franzen, North Cambridge street, this city. Mrs. Jack Hillebrecht was welcomed as a new member of the club.

The afternoon was spent socially and with the conclusion of the meeting, the hostess served appetizing refreshments.

Members present were Mesdames Fred Klauer, Earl Hobbs, Paul Ristow, Oscar Ristow, Hebert Kline, Orlo Hobbs, George Franzen, Otto Ristow, Jack Hillebrecht and the hostess, Mrs. Parker.

Minister Leaves To Establish New San Diego Church

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—With plans to organize a new Christian mission church in San Diego, the Rev. and Mrs. P. N. McClure and family left here yesterday to establish their home in that city. The church is on the east side of San Diego, and partly is to be supported by the other two Christian churches of that city, it was learned today.

The Rev. and Mrs. McClure and children, Charles, Phyllis, Dale and Robert, have been in Orange for the past two months with Mrs. McClure's mother, Mrs. C. L. Robinson, 128 North Grand street. They are former residents of this city.

Bazaar Planned By Church Class

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Making plans for their bazaar to be held in the spring of the year, members of the R. P. C. Sunday school class held a meeting yesterday with Mrs. O. G. Rains, 531 East Palmyra avenue. It was decided to begin work on aprons to be sold at this time.

A red and white decorative theme was observed during the covered dish luncheon served early in the day. Sweet peas from the home gardens and deep toned candles and holders were used in carrying out the pretty motif.

Mrs. Leo Douglas was in charge of the short business meeting. Members spent most of the day in sewing.

Those present were Mesdames Mason M. Fishback, L. L. Williams, T. E. Watson, A. Barnes, John Cassidy, Leo Douglas, William Nave, George Horton, Frank Ebell, William Paerher, Ed Stanley, and the hostess, Mrs. Rains.

Calls of human lungs, if spread out flat, would make an area of 480 square feet.

REPORTS GIVEN AT SESSION OF CHURCH CLASS

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Benedictine class members held an enjoyable meeting yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Leslie Scriven as hostess. Her home on Cambridge street. A delicious covered dish luncheon was served to precede other events of the afternoon.

During a short business meeting in charge of the president, Mrs. Roy Cavett, Mrs. Ed Stinson and Mrs. Ross Stuckey were appointed members of the visiting committee. It was reported that 145 calls had been made, and 28 bouquets had been distributed. Much of the time was devoted to placing a quilt.

Those present were Mesdames J. E. Greene, E. M. Edwards, M. Bortz, Ed Stinson, Beale Kirby, Bonnie Logan, W. M. Stipherd, Carl Stuckey, O. A. Long, Lucille Buckley, May Dwyer, Grover Hamill, W. H. Larson, Ross Stuckey, George Bohm, Jane Chandler, Clara Allen, R. W. Hull, A. M. Shriver, J. R. Kenyon, C. H. Stewart, Pernel Barnett, Roy Cox, Edith Scriven, Nellie Scriven and Roy Cavett.

Mrs. Ross Stuckey will be hostess at the next meeting, February 18, entertaining in her home, 639 Van Bibber street.

REBEKAHS TO MEET

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—Rebekah Past Noble Grands will meet the evening of January 29 for a covered dish dinner in the I. O. O. F. hall. Hundreds of members will be guests at the affair. Following the dinner, there will be initiation.

More than 155,170,000 books, exclusive of those printed for school use, were sold in the United States during 1929.

WHO LOSES WHAT?

Ball players who refuse to accept fat cuts in fat salaries in these somewhat skimpy days are bound to lose favor with part of their beloved public.

Baseball magnates who proffer a few fat cuts in fat salaries in these somewhat skimpy days are bound to lose favor with part of their beloved public.

ONE POINT OF VIEW

The deadline of a man's ball playing days comes between 25 and 40. He must cash in while the cashing is good. Babe Ruth will be 38 Feb. 7. Two more years! He was worth $50,000 last year. With a great year behind him the young man hardly can be blamed for refusing to discount his performances of the next two seasons as those of a middle-aged athlete.

In this adventure, Babe Ruth is fortunate that Colonel Ruppert is his employer, and not Sam Breadley or Barney Dreyfuss.

YOU DON'T SAY!

In the next world series, by the way, between the Yankees and Brooklyn, Babe Ruth will bat .650 and hit eight home runs.

We don't know for sure yet about Brooklyn winning the pennant, but are pretty positive about the Yankees. Colonel Ruppert already has told us the Yankees are in. Usually Colonel Ruppert isn't dead certain about the race.

until the latter part of February. This year he became convinced in January.

There are a great many interesting things about der colonel besides his predictions. At one time he was a collector of race horses. But it seems that one of his best friends told him that a race could be fixed. He sold his stable.

He went in for collecting period furniture, but eventually somebody told him that the disconcerting revelation his friend had confided about horse races held good for period furniture, too. He went in for collecting buildings for a time. For one of these, a 36-story office building at the corner of Fifth avenue and 44th street, the colonel paid $5,000,000.

DIFFERS WITH HUSTON

He met Colonel Tillinghast L'Hommiedieu Huston who suggested they go into the ivory business together. Each put up $100,000 and they bought the Yankees. That was in 1915. Some years later they differed on the choice of a manager for their ivory collection. Ruppert wanted Miller Huggins. Colonel Tillinghast wanted his uncle Wilbert Robinson. The dispute ended in 1923 when Colonel Ruppert agreed to pay Colonel Huston $1,250,000 for his bit. As it turned out, though the Yankees, Colonel Huston got not one bit the worst of the bargain.

It may sound funny to say that Colonel Huston's chief interest in the Yankees is that they win, and that the money angle is a minor matter. But I think that statement is correct.

And I don't think that a matter of $10,000 will rear itself as a barrier between him and Babe Ruth. Honest!

FAVORITE ODDS INCREASED BY MANIPULATION

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Officials of the Jefferson Park race track today began an investigation of the huge betting coup perpetrated successfully in the first race yesterday on the horse Charm, reported to have cost book operators hundreds of thousands of dollars.

It seemed a sinister coincidence, to officials, that this same seven-year-old mare, Charm, figured a few years ago in a similar "killing," allegedly carried out by Al Capone and his associates, when the horse paid a huge price after winning a race here.

Yesterday, Charm, racing in the name of C. S. Stubbs, paid $15.60 for a $2 ticket, after winning the six-furlong sprint in a field of 12 starters. The price had been manipulated. Charm was held at odds of 1 to 2 until post-time. Then some $6000 was wagered on other horses in the field, "building up" Charm's price to 7 to 2 when the barrier was sprung.

The entire pool on the race was $15,878, a new record for this season's meeting. The pool in the second race was $6284.

Track officials estimated that more than $6000 was bet on other horses just before the first race. Most of it was received in cash through the windows, and a small amount by wire.

Robert Eddy, general manager of the track, said he believed the coup was executed by operators in certain large cities in the north, represented in New Orleans by agents. Betting service companies here have received a barrage of heated protests from bookmakers throughout the country.

Yesterday's coup is reminiscent of the recent Linden Tree affair at Agua Caliente, where Baron Long, one of the trustees of the track, executed a similar "build up" on the horse, Linden Tree, just before the race started.

LEWIS DEFINITELY PICKED S. F. U. COACH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Lawrence (Spud) Lewis, assistant to Dick Hanley at Northwestern and a former Stanford grid star under "Pop" Warner, is the new football coach at San Francisco university.

Lewis signed a three-year contract last night after a day in conference with the athletic board. He succeeds Jimmy Needles, chief mentor for the past nine years, who resigned several weeks ago.

Lewis' appointment was believed in line with the decision of S. F. U. officials to look for "something different" in the way of football coaches. Needles, used the Notre Dame shift system as do the coaches at both of San Francisco's oldest rivals, "Slip" Madigan at St. Mary's and "Clipper" Smith at Santa Clara. Lewis follows the style of his old mentor at Stanford.

JOHNSON, STANFORD HURLER, INELIGIBLE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 22.—Despite the ineligibility of Dan Johnson, his star pitcher, Coach Harry Walter is not entirely pessimistic as he prepares the Stanford line, 1931 champion of the California Intercollegiate Baseball association, to defend its title.

Johnson, who started 10 conference games last season and won 8 of the Indians' 15 victories, did not pass enough hours in the autumn quarter to be eligible.

However, the star chucker may climb back on the mound with the opening of the spring session March 28 if he passes sufficient hours this quarter. Approximately two-thirds of the conference schedule will be completed by that time.

With Johnson out of the running, the pitching burden will fall principally on Herman Estes, a transfer from San Mateo junior college; Stan Anderson, a sophomore; and Ernie Caddell of football fame, who pitched some for the varsity last year.

JOHNSON, STANFORD HURLER, INELIGIBLE

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 22.—Despite the ineligibility of Dan Johnson, his star pitcher, Coach Harry Walter is not entirely pessimistic as he prepares the Stanford line, 1931 champion of the California Intercollegiate Baseball association, to defend its title.

Johnson, who started 10 conference games last season and won 8 of the Indians' 15 victories, did not pass enough hours in the autumn quarter to be eligible.

However, the star chucker may climb back on the mound with the opening of the spring session March 28 if he passes sufficient hours this quarter. Approximately two-thirds of the conference schedule will be completed by that time.

With Johnson out of the running, the pitching burden will fall principally on Herman Estes, a transfer from San Mateo junior college; Stan Anderson, a sophomore; and Ernie Caddell of football fame, who pitched some for the varsity last year.

Max To Sign Bout Papers, Return Home

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(UP)—Max Schmeling, world's heavyweight champion, and Jack Sharkey, scheduled to sign contracts today for their proposed 15-round title bout here in June.

Johnny Buckley, manager of Sharkey, said the Boston gub had agreed to accept 12½ per cent of the gate. This was one of the controversial points.

Schmeling is prepared to sail tonight for Germany aboard the liner Europa. He will return to the United States in March, and after a brief exhibition tour, begin training for the bout.

ALHAMBRA TILT NEXT TO LAST FOR S. A. FIVE

Santa Ana at Alhambra; San Diego at Glendale; Fullerton at Long Beach; Pasadena, bye.

Instilled with new spirit and hope as a result of a smashing victory over Glendale early this week, Santa Ana high school's basketball team travels to Alhambra tonight for its next-to-last game of the Coast Preparatory league schedule.

If the Saints annex win this and also a fracas with Fullerton next Friday, they will finish their season with three wins, three losses. Victory for the first time in current league play came to Santa Ana Tuesday when the highly touted Glendale outfit was downed by an eighteen-point margin, 53-34. Previously the Saints were handed setbacks by San Diego, Long Beach and Pasadena.

ALHAMBRA TILT NEXT TO LAST FOR S. A. FIVE

Alhambra has fared no better, losing to Long Beach, Glendale and San Diego while winning one, from Fullerton, 25-14. The Moors lost to Glendale, 21-20.

Jim Lash, a made-over guard and center, has found his real place at center and will open at that position tonight. Coach Bill Cook said, "Red" Klader and Francis Conrad will hold down the forward stations although Conrad has a slightly sprained ankle. If he is not available, Cook will use Alex Clark. Captain Lawrence Lutz and Clair Prelinger will do the guarding.

The probable starting lineup for Alhambra lists Cameron and Anderson, forwards; Seton, center; and Boyd and Johnson, guards. Cameron, a football star, is the sparkplug in the Moor machine.

TOTAL RECEIPTS FOR FOOTBALL SEASON ESTIMATED AT $14,807 WITH $5905 PROFIT TO SCHOOL

Approximately 34,275 persons saw Santa Ana high school's football team complete an undefeated season of 14 games to win the Southern California prep championship for 1931, according to semi-official estimates announced today by the office of "Tex" Oliver, head of the physical education department of city schools.

Total receipts were estimated at $14,807.87, an all-time high school record here.

Santa Ana's share will approximate $5905, as against $2722.63 in 1930, $3802 in 1929, and $2500 in 1928, and $4491 in 1927. No accurate statistics are available for seasons prior to 1927.

Figures for total attendance and total receipts are estimated because at most games students were admitted merely by showing their student body cards, and no accurate check was taken as to how many presented these at the gate. In the case of receipts, the figure of $14,807 is a semi-official one because at 7 of the 14 games the money was handled by opponent officials or by persons other than Santa Ana representatives.

The American Legion, for instance, had complete charge of the Santa Ana-Anaheim game Armistice Day.

Santa Ana's championship contest with Covina, played at the Los Angeles Coliseum December 19, attracted the most spectators—approximately 7500—according to figures released by Coliseum officials. Receipts were $4946.10, with Santa Ana obtaining $1171.22. Covina and the C. I. F. received similar amounts. Expenses totaled $1432.46, including $494.61 for rental of the stadium and $622.50 for gatekeepers, guards and various other staffmen.

The San Diego Hi game, which started the Saints on their way toward the title, netted the school the most money—$1252.62.

The Alhambra game, decisive contest of the league season, drew 4237 spectators and a "gate" of $1546.55, with Santa Ana's share $1000.

A C. I. F. playoff contest at Santa Monica was witnessed by more than 3000 persons, but Santa Ana's "cut" was less than $400, as the C. I. F. also divided equally with the competing schools in this instance.

The season's statistics:

Attendance	Gate Receipts	S.A. Net
Roosevelt	446	$ 97.25
Orange	812	188.00
Compton	1,115	177.00
Tustin	293	31.50
San Diego A. and N.	722	131.80
San Diego Hi	3,975	1,789.35
Pasadena	1,155	190.00
Long Beach	5,572	2,226.00
Anaheim	2,200	1,131.75
Glendale	1,678	552.57
Alhambra	4,237	1,546.55
Fullerton	1,505	300.00
Santa Monica	3,025	1,500.00
Covina	7,500	4,946.10
Totals	34,275	$14,807.87

*—Attendance figures estimated as all students are admitted to games by student body card, and no check is taken of the number of cards presented.

†—Estimated because games noted were played on opponents' field or receipts were handled by parties other than Santa Ana Hi officials.

POLISH WELTER FIGHTS FOR HAND OF PRINCESS IN BOUT

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(UP)—And, even though Poland is a republic, a princess can't stoop to marry a sardine canner—unless he becomes a genuine "big-time."

That's just what Eddie will do tonight, he vowed, when he wrecks Petrolle, the "Fargo Express," at the Garden. Then he said, he will cable Warsaw, telling Anne to pack up her hope chest and catch the first ferry for New York, and the wedding.

Ran will have a six-pound advantage in the weights. He will enter the ring at about 144, while Petrolle will weigh only 140. He will have youth and a terrific, short right hand jolt on his side against the experience and ruggedness of the veteran Petrolle.

Eddie is 21, Billy 27.

Harbor Chamber Of Commerce Names Directors

NEW OFFICERS SELECTED ON NEXT TUESDAY

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 22.—The Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce elected officers at a meeting and banquet held last night at the high school cafe, the domestic science class of the high school serving the dinner. About 80 attended the meeting. Three new directors were chosen, Irving George Gordon, Stuart Lucas and Lew Wallace. Re-elected were L. L. Isbell, H. H. Williamson and J. A. Beck. The following are the hold-over directors: E. I. Moore, H. L. Sherman, W. L. Jordan, J. P. Greeley, Dr. F. C. Ferry, W. S. Smith Jr. Community singing was led by Miss Marie Hensch, music director of the high school. Arthur Frost, of Huntington Beach, talked on the growth and development of the harbor district.

W. R. Osborn, president of the Huntington Beach chamber, also talked, praising the publicity work of the Newport chamber. H. L. Sherman showed some motion pictures of the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena.

Election of officers will be held next Tuesday.

BUENA PARK MAN'S INJURED BY NAIL

BUENA PARK, Jan. 22.—Fred Clark received a serious injury to his eye at his home on Fullerton avenue yesterday, which may result in the loss of sight of the injured member. A nail which he was driving flew up, hitting the eye. Mr. Clark was taken to a specialist in Los Angeles for treatment.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?
Do you know why external remedies do not give quick and permanent relief?
Why cutting does not remove the cause?
Do you know the cause of Piles internally?
That there is congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the veins flabby, the parts almost dead?
Do you know that there is a harmless internal remedy for itching, bleeding or protruding piles discovered by Dr. Leonard and known as HEM-ROID that is guaranteed?
HEM-ROID banishes piles by removing the cause. It stimulates the circulation in the lower bowel—drives out the thick impure blood, heals and restores the affected parts.
Dr. Leonard's HEM-ROID has an almost unbelievable record of success right in this city. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when McCoy Drug Co., 3 stores, invites every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles no matter how stubborn the case?—Adv.

Tree, Wild Flower Planting Campaign For Woman's Club

SAN CLEMENTE, Jan. 22.—With a slogan, "Beautify the Spanish Village," the San Clemente Woman's club laid plans for a wild flower and tree planting campaign yesterday at their birthday party held at the Aquarium cafe. The highlight of the meeting, attended by more than 50 members of the organization, was a tree planting ceremony at which Mayor Thos. F. Murphy spoke. The tree was dedicated as a landmark in the progress of the club, which is a year old.

The invocation was given by Dr. Robert Hogarth. A birthday cake was made and presented to the club by its president, Mrs. J. E. Lape. Mrs. Robert Plume gave a review of the history of the organization. Mrs. Lape spoke on the aims and ambitions of the club, stressing the wild flower and tree planting campaign. Mrs. Julia Clark gave a piano solo and then played accompaniment to a solo number by Mrs. O. R. Robertson. The program ended with a quartet number given by Mrs. J. B. Lape, Mrs. George Ferguson, Mrs. A. T. Smith and Mrs. Roy Larson.

Walker was leader of the meeting. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. N. H. Garretson on Central avenue.

RESIDENTS OF RESERVE BANK MESA DISTRICT HONOR PASTOR BY CANDIDATE

COSTA MESA, Jan. 22.—Honoring the Rev. Winifred Rowntree, a group of some 60 of his coworkers and friends spent the evening with him yesterday. The Rev. Mr. Rowntree and Mrs. Rowntree, deceased, spent several years as missionaries in Palestine. At yesterday's meeting the Rev. Mr. Rowntree commented on the Sunday school lesson for next Sunday, having seen and come in contact with many of the places and things mentioned in the lesson. Previous to his talk a short devotional service was conducted by the Rev. A. F. Hasse. A brief business session was also held, with the Sunday school superintendent, the Rev. Grov S. Brown, in the chair. The meeting closed with a social hour at which time refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Those present were the Rev. and Mrs. A. F. Hasse, the Rev. and Mrs. Grov S. Brown and daughter Miriam, J. B. Cleghorn, Mrs. Howard, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McMurtry and daughter Doris, Mrs. Edna Gibson and daughter Doris and sons Marvin and Arthur, Lloyd Willcutt and daughters Margaret and Martha. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Winterbourne and son Bobbie and daughters Mae Margaret and Alice, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Hulbert, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Nelson and daughter Avelon and son Ralph, Mrs. J. E. Williams and daughter Ramona, Mrs. Ruth Lenaki and son Joseph, Mrs. D. J. Dodge and son Jack and daughter Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Anderson, Mrs. Vida Caruthers, Mrs. Marie Fleher, Mrs. James Gallagher, Mrs. William Kerr, Mrs. Holliday, Mrs. Ed Bennett, Mrs. Albert Dudek, Ed Bennett, Miss William Knox, Mrs. Cora Killo, Mrs. William Holt and daughter Nancy, and Mrs. B. E. Cockrill.

He condemned without hesitating the Federal Reserve bank and the present banking system of the country and recommended that the banks be operated exclusively as government owned institutions.

He said that the present depression had been caused and manufactured by the men who handle the money and predicted that unless a radical change was effected, the country would continue with the present era of uncertainty.

Briefly he traced the history of the banking laws from the day of Andrew Jackson up to the present era. He spoke at length regarding the present Federal Reserve banking system. He attacked Wall street with feeling and termed the issuance of script during the panic of 1907 as "the biggest counterfeiting scheme that ever hit any country."

He openly questioned whether this country was now on the gold standard. Rather he said that it was a credit basis. He praised the countries which had "kicked the gold standard overboard" and intimated that this country as well as France would do likewise in the not-distant future.

As a cure for the present evils, Nordskog recommended that this country manufacture money-paper money, which would constitute a "flat money" which would be a direct evidence of debt by the people by the country. He said that the $26,000,000,000 cost of the World war was an evidence of debt by the people and it was not an obligation to pay gold as there was less than 50 percent of this amount of gold in the entire world.

ALBERTA KNOX OF WESTMINSTER WEDS

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 22.—The marriage of Miss Alberta Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Knox, took place at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Hughes, at Glendale this week.

The groom is Russel Van Atter, Burbank business man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Evans of the First Presbyterian church. Mrs. Albert Knox, mother of the bride, attended from here.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Atter are to make their home in Burbank.

SCHOOL PUPILS GIVE CANTATA FEBRUARY 22

LA HABRA, Jan. 22.—To plan an appropriate celebration in commemoration of the two-hundredth birthday anniversary of George Washington, representatives of the various organizations in La Habra were called together Wednesday evening at the Washington school by Chairman E. R. Berry.

Several plans were announced and discussed by the committee at this meeting. Prof. F. L. Barrows announced that the schools are preparing for a patriotic cantata of "Our Country," to be given at the Washington school auditorium on the evening of February 22. Other numbers will be presented on this program and Mrs. Mabel Jackson and S. L. Treff were appointed to serve with Mr. Barrows in making this a success.

A unified tree planting program was discussed at this meeting and Mrs. W. D. Threlkeld was appointed to take charge of this feature. Tentative plans were to go ahead with the plans for the community in planting trees on certain streets and at this time it is hoped that at least one tree may be planted, with fitting ceremonies on each street in commemoration of this date.

The various churches all expressed their intention of a special program for the week of February 22.

Decoration of the store windows in town will be in charge of a committee, with E. R. Berry, Mrs. N. M. Launer and E. M. Jackson in charge. L. E. Wiede was placed in charge of the distribution of the framed pictures of Washington to the various rooms at the schools.

SEWING CLUB MEETS

Little Doris Newman, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Newman, has been brought home from the Seaside hospital in Long Beach, where she has been a patient.

Shuler Talks At Huntington Beach Dinner Tonight

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Jan. 22.—The Methodist brotherhood tonight will be addressed by the Rev. Bob Shuler, of Los Angeles, who will talk on "Free Speech." About 250 tickets of admission have been sold. The speaking program will be preceded by a 6:30 o'clock banquet served by the Ladies' Aid of the church. The public is invited as it is to be an open meeting.

P.-T. A. PLANS PROGRAM FOR FEBRUARY 17

OCEANVIEW, Jan. 22.—Plans for a Founders' day program for the Oceanview Parent-Teacher association were made Wednesday at the regular afternoon meeting held at the school, where the fourth and fifth grades, under their teachers, Mrs. Mattie Payne and Miss Rosenbaum, gave several numbers. The program included two songs by Mrs. Payne's fourth grade and a talk on "Cheerfulness" by Mrs. Payne; recitation, "Boy Blue" by Charles Hill of the fifth grade and a talk on "Cheerfulness" by Miss Rosenbaum. Mrs. C. E. Gilmors gave a safety talk in place of Mrs. Guy Stine, safety chairman.

The Founders' program will be held in connection with the George Washington bicentennial on Feb. 17, in the school auditorium.

An all day meeting of the P. T. A. to sew was set for January 26. This will be held at the church hall with a pot luck luncheon at noon. There are approximately 18 persons in this community at present in need. Materials, woolen if possible, are asked of anyone wishing to help in this cause. Boys clothing is especially needed.

Miss Marie Rosenbaum, fifth grade teacher was appointed as safety chairman of the local organization upon the resignation of Mrs. Guy Stine.

The prize of $1 given each month to the class having present the most mothers, went to Miss Hansen's first grade. Oceanview P. T. A. will entertain the district P. T. A. in March.

FLAG HISTORY OUTLINED FOR WOMAN'S CLUB

BUENA PARK, Jan. 22.—The Women's club conducted an interesting meeting at the clubhouse Thursday afternoon. Mrs. G. W. Adeattle, of Highland, who is chairman of history and landmarks for the Federated Woman's club was the speaker of the afternoon. Her subject was "California Under Six Flags." She traced the history of California from the Indians down to present times, illustrating each period with its flag. She displayed the Spanish flag, the British Union Jack, the Russian Merchant Marine, the Mexican Man of War, the California Republic and the Stars and Stripes.

Mrs. J. J. Sparley, of Fullerton, gave a group of Spanish songs, playing her own accompaniment. Mrs. Adeattle was presented with a bouquet of red roses. Mrs. Albert Launer, of Fullerton, district federation president was a guest.

The board of trustees drew up a set of rules for the Junior auxiliary.

Rousselle Hurt By Car At Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, Jan. 22.—A. B. Rousselle, Balboa capitalist, was painfully injured in an auto accident at Main and Central yesterday. Just as he stepped from the curbing an auto driven by Mrs. Frank Swift, of Balboa, struck him. He was knocked down and received cuts and bruises. Mrs. Smith's auto was moving slowly, according to reports. Rousselle's injuries are not serious and he will not be confined to his home.

NEW OFFICERS SELECTED FOR TOASTMASTERS

Newly elected officers of the Santa Ana Toastmasters club who will assume charge of club activities in February. They are: Frederick H. Ely, president; Harry D. Riley, vice president; D. H. Tibbels, secretary-treasurer; and Dean W. Campbell, sergeant-at-arms.

The new officers will be installed at the meeting on February 2. Harry LeBarb has served the club as president for the past year.

Wednesday night's program of club was conducted by William Iverson, as toastmaster, with speeches by R. O. Grover, D. H. Tibbels and Harry LeBarb, and with R. C. Smedley acting as general critic of the evening.

Plans were completed for an exchange of speakers with the Toastmasters' club of Pasadena, which will take place in the first week of February. The Santa Ana club will send speakers to Pasadena on February 2, and Pasadena will return the compliment on February 3.

Preparations are being completed for the final tryouts for the high school oratorical competition to select a speaker from this district who will appear in the statewide contest to be held at Anaheim on February 27. At the general convention of Toastmasters' clubs.

PYTHIANS OF BREA HOLD INSTALLATION

BREA, Jan. 22.—Knights of Pythias of Brea installed officers this week, as follows: Chancellor commander, Joe Davis; vice commander, Roy Niehaus; master-at-arms, Gene Streed; master of works, Norval Winchell; prelate, Howard Danieley; keeper of records and seals, C. C. Kinsler; master of finance, Ted McGraw; master of exchequer, E. L. Allen; inner guard, Kenneth Sutcliffe; outer guard, Dave Hearn.

An installing staff from the Anaheim lodge had charge of the work. The staff comprised Marion Eden, grand chancellor; John Van Aken, grand vice chancellor; John Eden, grand prelate; J. L. Kelsey, grand master at arms.

Following the ceremonies of installation guests and members repaired to the dining room, where a committee of Brea men served an oyster supper.

Court Notes

Joseph Disco has brought suit in superior court against the Pacific States Savings and Loan company asking judgment for $1400 or delivery of a certificate issued by the Fidelity Savings and Loan association.

C. M. Brown and V. W. Borden have brought suit in superior court against Charles J. McWhinnie asking judgment for $18.88 and $730.28 asserted to be due on two promissory notes.

Frances Adams has brought suit against Ralph F. Adams in superior court, seeking a divorce. The complaint was based on asserted cruelty. They married in 1924 and separated on December 27, 1931.

The will of the late Joseph Schwartzbach, who died on January 7, has been filed for probate in superior court. The petition stating that the estate is valued at no more than $11,000. Heirs listed include Emma Berghofer, daughter, Anton Berghofer and Ralph R. Schwartzbach, the latter two being named as executors.

An estate valued at more than $10,000 was left by the late Alfred E. Doyle, who died on January 9, according to a petition for admitting the will to probate, which has been filed in superior court. Heirs listed include Alice M. Doyle and Eva G. Doyle, daughters, of Santa Ana, and Gertrude Doyle, widow, of Santa Ana. Both daughters were named as executors, Gertrude Doyle declining to act, according to the petition.

TELLS ADVANTAGES OF USING BUSES

When rain and cold make traveling more or less disagreeable, the best way to travel by motor coach is most appreciated, according to A. M. Thomas, agent for the Motor Transit Lines operating from Santa Ana to hundreds of other Southern California communities.

"Whether it is cold outside or the warmest day, it is always fair weather inside of a Motor Transit coach," said Thomas, "for the latest improved heaters provide a constant change of pure, warm, odorless air."

Thomas remarked that the economy of travel by Motor Transit stages and the comfort and convenience are also perhaps responsible for such a great number of automobile owners leaving their cars at home for other members of the family to use for errands and themselves using the motor stages for their more protracted trips.

'CHILD'S WORK' IS TOPIC FOR P.-T. A.

BREA, Jan. 22.—"The Child's Work" was the subject of the round table discussion at the meeting of the Brea P.-T. A. this week, when that body met in the Laurel school building. The discussion was led by Miss Helen Henigan, chairman of the program committee, with the 35 members present taking an active part.

Mrs. Winnie Crabb, president, called the meeting to order. At the business meeting which preceded the round table Miss Henigan tendered her resignation as vice president of the association and chairman of child welfare work, also as a representative of the P.-T. A. on the Brea-Olinda Welfare association board. Mrs. Glenn Jones, Mrs. Mrs. Wharton and Mrs. O. D. Harton were elected to take her place in these respective positions.

The next meeting of the P.-T. A. will be held February 16 and the program will be devoted to the observance of Founders' day. A tea will follow the program. Mrs. Eliza Bush will have charge of the program and the tea will be served by Mrs. Emil Harke and a committee. Miss Henigan, daughter of George F. Henigan, is leaving shortly for Loma Linda, where she will complete a course in nursing begun several years ago.

Spanish Village Physician Plans For Club Friends

SAN CLEMENTE, Jan. 22.—Dr. Carl Wagner, director of the San Clemente Community hospital, will entertain members of the Optimist club of Pasadena at San Clemente Saturday and Sunday. More than 25 members are expected to spend the week end in the Spanish village playing golf. A dinner at the hospital Saturday night will be one of the features of the gathering.

SCOUTS PREPARE FOR HONOR COURT

LA HABRA, Jan. 22.—Troop No. 96 of La Habra Boy Scouts this week made plans for the board of review to be held January 27 and for the court of honor to be held at the Washington school auditorium January 29.

Billie Wardrip was signed up as a new member. An hour of games was conducted by John Brewer and Edwin Koonz.

The program as outlined for the court of honor will include an address by some well known speaker to be announced later, the call to colors by Russell Granger and James Davis. This will be followed by an impressive ritual by 12 tenderfoot scouts. A triangle of lighted candles will be formed and the boys will recite the Scout law.

Harrison White, county Scout executive, will present to Donald Willard his Eagle Scout badge and Jack Cheung will receive his Star Scout award. Other star Scouts in the La Habra troop are Donald Willard, Earl Strupp, Evan Johnson, Richard Douth and Edwin Koonz.

SURPRISE SHOWER IS HELD AT MESA

COSTA MESA, Jan. 22.—A group of 35 clubwomen met at the home of Mrs. N. E. Perkins, of Victoria street, Wednesday afternoon, to hold a surprise shower for Mrs. R. C. Bell of the Friday Afternoon club.

Guessing games were played during the afternoon, with Mrs. W. W. Carruthers and Mrs. Alex Olson tying for high score. The winners then gave the gift to the honor guest. A plate luncheon was served.

Among the invited guests, besides the above mentioned, were Mesdames O. B. Addison, K. E. Anderson, J. L. Chase, L. R. Danghenbaugh, Belle De Walt, J. H. Stet, W. H. Evans, E. N. Gage, W. H. Guthrie, C. G. Huston, R. H. Leahy, A. P. Nelson, J. A. Patridge, Sadie Patton, E. A. Randall, H. F. Schick, R. Stedman, W. A. Sexton, J. W. Wherry, Helen Wilson and Miss Alice C. Plumer.

Continue Search For Buried Gold

WESTMINSTER, Jan. 22.—The "gold rush" is again on in Westminster. W. J. Cox and Jake Hylton, local men, who are owners of the former Carl Newman property which has been the scene of the hunt for hidden treasure, have transferred their lease to another group of treasure hunters. The new lessees are now trying their luck for the supposed pot of gold which the former recluses are said to have hidden here.

Two crews of men are at work. One crew is digging in the 27-foot abandoned pit of the former lessees while another is taking a new site for operations. Rumor has it that Newman buried $35,000 in gold on the place.

Brea Sisters At Whittier Session

BREA, Jan. 22.—A number of Pythian Sisters from Brea joined with members of the Whittier temple in a called meeting in Whittier Thursday afternoon for the official visit of Mrs. Agnes Nesbitt, San Francisco, grand chief of California. The work of the degree was exemplified for the guest.

Those attending from Brea were Mesdames Howard Danieley, E. L. Allen, G. C. Polckemer, F. A. Ball, Joe Davis, Dave Hearn, Paul Olmsted, C. C. Jarvis and Roy Wheeler.

How to Relieve Head Noises.

Good Advice For Those Who Fear Deafness

Catarrh sufferers who are growing hard of hearing, should take warning from that old feeling of pressure against their ear drums, those buzzing rumbling head noises, like steam escaping, and take prompt effective measures to stop this trouble. Head noises due to catarrh are almost always the forerunners of deafness and most deaf folks suffer from them constantly. Often the never-ending, nerve-racking "hum" drives the sufferer almost frantic and may result in a nervous breakdown.

Thanks to a remarkable medicine, it is now possible to lessen these head noises and often completely overcome them, and with their disappearance the hearing also greatly improves, and frequently can be restored to normal. From McCoy Drug Store or your druggist secure a 1 oz. bottle of Parmit (Double Strength), take this home and add to it 1/4 pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. Parmit is used this way to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, and also to convert any excess secretions in the middle ear. Parmit usually gives quick, effective results. Every catarrh sufferer should give Parmit a trial.—Adv.

TRAVELLING FOOD BASKETS PLANNED

LA HABRA, Jan. 22.—Plans for two traveling baskets were completed at the meeting of section two of the M. E. Ladies' Aid this week. The baskets will be in charge of Mrs. P. P. Davis and Mrs. Nellie LaMonte at the start. The plan is to place in the baskets home-made articles of food and a bank. The basket is then delivered to a member, who receives the food and places a donation in the bank, later refilling the basket with an article and passing it on. The baskets will be in circulation for about two months.

Mrs. H. O. Simmons gave a talk on the book of John and the afternoon was spent in sewing quilt blocks. It was voted to hold all future meetings at the homes of the various members and Mrs. Sheridan Phillips will entertain at her home for the next meeting.

At the meeting of section one, held at the home of Mrs. Rosetta Koonz Wednesday afternoon, eight members were in attendance. Plans for the brotherhood dinner next Tuesday evening were completed. It was voted to turn over to the General Aid, $25 received by this section through the sale of cookbooks.

Mrs. Koonz served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Name Officers For Hi-Y Group

DISTRICT P.-T.A.
MEET ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

With 114 delegates present, the Fourth District P.-T. A. met yesterday at Buena Park in its regular session, hearing encouraging membership reports, learning of a safety prize contest for the schools of the county, and of the need of a directed recreational program in the county.

Mrs. Mary B. Robertson, of Santa Ana, district president, presided at the session, which was held in the congregational church. Arthur Corey, superintendent of Buena Park schools, made the address of welcome.

Greetings were brought from the state board and a request that Founders' day be observed in honor of the pioneer officers.

Mrs. F. H. Greenwood, of Tustin, financial secretary, reported 3845 members for the fourth district this year. It was voted to change Article 10 of the by-laws limiting district meetings to seven for the purpose of more efficient conducting of business and for better attendance.

Mrs. J. O. Campbell, of Tustin, explained the system of taxation and the allocation of funds. She explained the sources of taxes and their division between state, county and district. One teacher is allowed for each unit of 35 pupils, she said. The problem of state printing of books as opposed to purchase from other sources was also introduced by Mrs. Campbell.

George Peterkin, of Santa Ana, who has charge of the safety traffic regulations for the Orange county division of the California highway patrol, announced a contest between county elementary schools of grades up to the eighth. Prizes which will be offered are to be donated by the Orange County Auto club and the Excelsior Dairy valued at $35. Questions in the contest are to involve safety traffic regulations.

Fluence Bando, in charge of physical education for girls at the Fullerton Union High school, told of her work in this field. Mrs. F. L. Williams of Anaheim spoke on the effects of lewd pictures on the younger generation. Only 20 per cent of pictures made in United States come under any censorship, she stated. C. G. Dwyer, of Santa Ana, told of the group of boys which is working to encourage interest in legislation providing federal control of motion pictures. A petition will be circulated in all Santa Ana and Orange churches for signatures soon.

The afternoon session was opened by the choir of Mother sinners from Anaheim singing a group of songs. A model Founders' day program was given as an example. Gerald "Tex" Oliver, football coach of Santa Ana High school and director of physical education for the city schools, spoke on the employment of leisure time in recreation. The lack of a directed program was deplored by the speaker. We have a need of trained leadership both for adults and children, Oliver stated.

Mrs. F. M. Eneign, president of the Grand Avenue P.-T. A., and Mrs. E. J. Parry, of Lindbergh, conducted the registration and welcomed the guests.

CITY MAY BE HOST TO MONTANA GROUP

It is possible that Santa Ana and Orange county will be hosts to approximately 140 homeseekers from Montana, according to George A. Raymer, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce. Raymer reports that a party of Montanans, with money to invest, is now in Los Angeles for the purpose of seeking permanent locations. Through the co-operation of officials of the Pacific Electric, Raymer is arranging for the entire party to visit Santa Ana during the early part of next week. In announcing the plan he said that should plans for the trip materialize, and every indication points to success, it will be necessary to secure many automobiles for transporting the guests over the city and pointing out the opportunities offered here.

FIELD MEETING ON
CITRUS FERTILIZER

Announcement of a field meeting to discuss citrus fertilization recommendations next Wednesday has just been issued by Roy Smith, prominent citrus grower of San Juan Capistrano and member of the farm center here. The citrus growers of the mission district have invited Harold E. Wahlberg, farm adviser, to present the latest citrus fertilizer data and recommendations of the University of California and experiment station.

The field meeting will be held at Smith's orchard headquarters on the state highway, about two miles north of San Juan Capistrano. The time is 2 p. m., Wednesday, January 27.

Any grower is invited to attend.

SECOND BALLOT REQUIRED AT
H. S. ELECTION
COUNTY C. OF C.
TO LEARN OF CRIME WARFARE

Mid-year elections at the Santa Ana Polytechnic High school yesterday brought about peculiar results, according to Lynn Crawford, principal of the continuation high school, who said that a revote was being called today on certain offices because of default encountered in yesterday's balloting. Students went to the polls again to vote for presidential and vice-presidential candidates and one member of the Girls' self-government committee.

Final results of the election that were regarded as satisfactory placed Barbara Copeland as secretary of the organization over Marlan Brownridge, Duane Larabee and Jim Lash defeated George Scales and Bob Winbush for the membership on the boys' self-government committee and Leora Hatch triumphed over Lorraine Woolley for position on the Girls' self-government committee. The other member will be chosen at today's election between Elizabeth Downie and Margaret Finley.

The presidential candidates to be decided upon today were Robert Mitchell, Herb Meyer, Robert Spurgeon, Allen Kidder and Harry Bradley. Dorothy Hatch, Florence Warner and Doug Hinesley will be voted upon for the vice-presidency. Crawford said that the revote was necessary because all the students in the high school were not on hand at the proper time to cast their ballot.

Orange county's crime detection and prevention methods will be one of the principal topics for discussion next Tuesday night when the Associated Chambers of Commerce hold their monthly meeting at Garden Grove.

The dinner meeting will be held in the Garden Grove Women's clubhouse at 8:30 p. m. next Tuesday with roast turkey being served during the dinner.

District Attorney Sam L. Collier will be the principal speaker and will review the present Orange county situation with regards to the detection and prevention of crime.

The matter of emergency employment will also be discussed during the meeting. According to the plan of the Garden Grove Chamber of Commerce, host organization this month, representatives from each city will be asked to outline to what extent labor problems are being met, whether by local effort or through county aid.

The board of directors of the Tustin Farm Center went on record at a meeting in Sycamore Inn Wednesday night as being in favor of continued activity of the county fruit patrol. Recently it was rumored that the grand jury was studying operation of the fruit patrol in connection with a possible program for reducing expenditures.

This program for the Tustin 4-H club activity in the ensuing year also was discussed at the dinner meeting. Those present were John Sauer, president, R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Farm Bureau, Assistant Farm Advisor E. E. Eastman, Felton Brown, vice president of the Farm Bureau, and a director of the center, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Stanley, Mr. Etzold, Mr. Murray and Mr. Prothero.

Expect Crowd At Drum Corps Dance

An unusually large crowd of former service men, their wives and sweethearts is expected to be present for the opening of the Orange County Dance hall, on the Anaheim-Santa Ana highway Saturday night, following a reported heavy sale of tickets by members of the Santa Ana American Legion drum corps. Each member of the drum corps and the Santa Ana police department are selling the tickets, Winbiger said.

About nine-tenths of the coal mined in Bulgaria is produced by the state-owned colliery at Pernik.

FELICITATE LEONARD
ON 80TH BIRTHDAY

Residents of Santa Ana are today paying their respects to N. H. Leonard, 620 North Ross street, who yesterday observed his eightieth birthday. A resident of Santa Ana since 1897, Leonard has been actively connected with the city's growth and development.

At the time the present Y. M. C. A. building was constructed he was the largest individual contributor to the fund and it was his contribution that was largely responsible for the completion of the structure. A plaque commemorating this gift and other services rendered the organization is on the wall of the lobby in the Y building.

A successful rancher, Leonard turned his interests to the walnut and fruit growing phase of agriculture and has been recognized as an authority on walnut culture. Since young manhood Leonard has been active in the Prohibition party. A firm believer in temperance principles he has been an active worker in the cause. It is his opinion that much of the poverty, suffering and crime darkening the country may be traced directly to the intemperate use of intoxicating liquors.

Despite his years Mr. Leonard is very active and well preserved.

Man Bound Over
On Support Count

ORANGE, Jan. 22.—As the result of a preliminary hearing in Judge A. W. Swayze's court yesterday morning, John Horton was bound over to superior court on charges of non-support brought by his wife, Callie Horton. Judge Swayze set the bond at $1500.

The suit will be filed January 23 at 10 a. m. in department two of the Orange county superior court, it was stated by Leo Ellis, deputy district attorney, after consulting Paul Hornaday, defense attorney. Hornaday asked for a dismissal of the case, pleading that Horton had no means of supporting the plaintiff.

OLIVE

OLIVE, Jan. 22.—Mrs. Emilia Brejle, Mrs. Martin Heman and son, Robert, and Miss Marler Brejle spent the afternoon with Mrs. Elmer Eglington in Santa Ana recently.

READY FOR RECORD ATTEMPT

Watch her speed! That's what the whole world will be doing when the Miss America IX, with Gar Wood at the wheel, sets out to break the international motorboat speed record now held by Kaye Don, English racer. Here Wood is shown putting his speedster through the paces at Miami Beach, Fla., in a run to test the rebuilt motors.

SENIOR BOYS AT H. S. FORM COMFORTABLE CLOTHES CLUB

Revoking all accepted standards of student dress, a group of boys at the Santa Ana High school have formed what they call the Comfortable Clothes Club. The main object of the club, according to Dick Gardiner, Potent Kibitzer of the new organization, is to put all men on an equal and comfortable standing.

All members of the club must wear old pants, tennis shoes, and sweat-shirts. Neckties, shirts, fancy socks, and "store" shoes are absolutely prohibited, according to the rules. Membership is limited to seniors only, and drastic punishment will be meted out to under-class men copying the mode of dress affected by the members of this new organization, it is planned.

At the same time the members are busy being comfortable, they also plan to act in the capacity of a service club within the student body promoting better students, social activities.

Charter members of the new organization are: Dick Gardiner, Potent Kibitzer; John McFarland, Harry Appling, Bud

Boyle, Joe Rossiter, Dick Gilliland, Otto Griggs, Art Casey, Jack McCarty, Herb Meyer, and Bob Spurgeon.

TEACHER TENURE IS ATTACKED BY BOARD

School boards throughout the state today are receiving copies of a resolution passed by the Fullerton Union High school board in which the state tenure law, which gives a life position to a teacher who has served three years continuously, is attacked. The Fullerton board favors a state wide assault on the measure.

The Fullerton board will not renew the contracts of nine teachers who have served three years, it was decided at a special meeting of the trustees this week.

The resolution was passed by a three to two vote. S. James Truffee, Jack Prizer and Albert Launer voting in favor and W. J. Travers and Arthur Staley opposing it.

BEE EXPERTS WILL SPEAK AT ANNUAL MEET

The University of California is sending Prof. J. E. Eckert, apiculturist, from the university farm to discuss control of bee diseases with Orange county beekeepers, who will meet here in annual conference tomorrow. The meeting will be held at the farm advisor's office, 221 court house annex, at 1:30 p. m.

H. M. Krebs, state supervisor of apiculture, is also coming from Sacramento at the request of the Beekeepers department of the Farm Bureau. He will outline the present honey situation and outlook Krebs has recently made an analysis of the honey producing business and will disclose some interesting and pertinent facts in connection therewith.

A motion picture taken in Orange county apiaries will be shown by R. K. Bishop, county apiculture inspector, who will also discuss some apiculture management problems.

Harold E. Wahlberg, farm advisor, will review the honey production cost data compiled by his department during the past three years.

Some time will be devoted to open discussion by those in attendance. All beekeepers and others interested in the industry are invited to attend, according to L. R. Crawford, chairman of the Beekeepers department of the Orange County Farm Bureau.

A. A. U. W. Leader Sails For Geneva; Will See Petition Tendered

Members of the Orange county branch of the American Association of University Women have been interested to learn that the head of their national organization, Miss Mary Emma Woolley, president of the A. A. U. W. and of Mount Holyoke college, sailed from New York on the President Harlan yesterday afternoon with the delegation of five appointed to represent the United States at the Disarmament Conference at Geneva.

Dr. Woolley, who will be the first woman to sit at the conference table, will represent, indirectly, American University women in her deliberations and will be present when the disarmament petitions, circulated by the national committee on the cause and cure of war and signed by a large number of Orange County university women, are formally presented to the conference on Tuesday, February 2. The A. A. U. W. has contributed a total of 21,000 signatures to these petitions, according to national officers.

Business Girls to Start Classes

Arrangements for the opening of the new Wyoecene Maegden club classes the first week in February were completed by the members of that organization at their meeting in the Y. W. C. A. Tuesday night. Mrs. H. P. Foster discussed the possibilities of the handicraft group, following the customary club dinner.

A play, "Mother Earth and Her Children" was presented by a group of members, those taking part being the Misses Fay Dickinson, Betty Cleary, Dorothy Lutz, Katherine Spicer, Ruth Porter, Blanche Thompson and Justine Palmer.

Plans were pronounced complete for the Spanish dinner scheduled for Tuesday night at the Y. W. C. A., which will be the only money-making event to be given under the Wyoecene Maegden club auspices this year. Funds accruing from this dinner will be used to finance club delegates to the annual Asilomar conference this summer, it was said.

Glee Club Practice is Converted Into Gay Surprise Party

Although their meeting on Tuesday night in the Albert F. Thorman home, 340 West Main street, Tustin, was apparently the usual practice night for members of the Legion Auxiliary Glee club, there was a secret plot afoot that gave the meeting all the charm of a party after the hour of practice came to a close.

Only two of the Glee club singers were excluded from this conspiracy, but that was because they were the objects of the delightful plotting. They were the hostess, Mrs. Jeanne Thorman, and Mrs. Ruth Spears, and the denouement came when Mrs. Thorman responded to a ring at the doorbell, while her guests sat in informal chat after the rehearsal.

When she reached the door, she discovered two big parcels, one wrapped in pale pink tissues with blue ribbons and the others in blue tissue with pink ribbons. They were plainly marked, one for Mrs. Thorman and one for Mrs. Spears, and when opened their contents were exquisite layette articles, practically all of which evidenced the fine handwork of the Glee club members.

Mrs. Charlene Utz, Mrs. Ethel Brown and Mrs. Grace Lineberger were the three who had taken the responsibility of planning the happy affair, which resolved itself into a buffet supper, as baskets were hastily retrieved from the automobiles in the parking.

The table from which sandwiches, salads and other dainties were served, was given a festive touch by stork decorations, and was centered with a beautiful cake adorned with pink rosebuds and quaint little stork figures. The cake with pink and white ice cream, formed the dessert course.

Returned Traveller Exhibits Chinese Collection

Ancient Chinese mandarin squares and scarfs and a colorful collection of Chinese sleeve bands, linens, handkerchiefs, porcelain and pictures were displayed for the inspection of Junior Ebell travel section members yesterday afternoon at what group's second meeting, in the home of its chairman, Miss Mary Safely, 1541 East Fourth street.

The section was indebted for the exhibit to Miss Wilma Plavan, who acquired the articles on her recent trip to the Orient and who explained in her talk, the distinguishing qualities in the mandarin squares which indicated "age" in which they had been made; the extent to which many of the linens had been copied from Italian work and other interesting details. Miss Plavan's trip up the Yangtze river and her mountain expeditions in China were also vividly described.

While members examined Miss Plavan's interesting collection, Miss Safely served jasmine tea and refreshments of an appropriate Chinese character.

Sharing the afternoon were the Misses Lolita Moss, Ned Moss, Dorothy Form, Wilma Plavan and Frances Batten; Mesdames Ralph Liverspire, Kenneth Ranney, Lynn Crawford, George Walker and Robert Lancaster and the hostess and leader, Miss Safely.

Eaton Home Scene of High School Party

One in a series of parties being shared by high school students of this and other cities of the county was held in the home of Miss Vonnie Eaton, 908 West Fourth street, when Miss Eaton, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Carrie Eaton, entertained a number of the former's friends at an evening of cante.

High and low scores were held, respectively, by Hubert Rumbaugh and Esther Lukens and after a round of other games the card tables were turned into refreshment tables for the serving of a late feast.

Guests of Miss Eaton and her mother were the Misses Elizabeth Sinner, Betty Stewart, Dolly Thorpe, Beth Lukens, Thelma Kishburn, Messrs. Hubert Rumbaugh, Floyd Hoot, Bertie Weaver, Charles Tondrych, Bob Canuck, Anna Newcomb, Edward Cox and Carl Estan; Mrs. Harriet Bollinger and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wright and son.

Many Guests Greeted At Meeting of Quill Pen

Mrs. S. R. Marshall's spectacular home at 2116 North Main street provided that hospitable charm for which it is noted among Quill Pen members, when Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Blanche Brown entertained the writers' club and a number of guests Wednesday night, at the first general "guest night" which the organization has observed for some months.

Mrs. Herman Reuter conducted a very short business session in which membership rules were discussed, after which the program opened with a farcical sketch, "Alice in Artist Land," which was given through the courtesy of the Business and Professional Women's club, of which Mrs. Brown, one of the hostesses, is a member.

The role of "Alice" was taken by Mrs. Laura McNaught; "Mad Hatter" by Mrs. N. E. Mayhill; "Red Queen" Mrs. Rae House; "Tweedle Dee," Mrs. Blanche Brown; "Tweedle Dum," Miss Lila Att. R. P. W. President; "Time" Miss Martha Beeman; "Knight" Miss Martha Whitson; "March Hare," Miss Jeanne House, substituting for Mrs. Marshall Northcross who was ill and unable to be present.

Miss Olga Karlsson director of the sketch introduced characters and play, explaining that it had been written by a B. P. W. member who also was a member of Quill Pen. Mrs. Elliott, Costumes, which were an unusually clever feature, had been planned by members of the cast under the supervision of a former M. P. W. president, Miss Alma Sweet, and followed the "Alice in Wonderland" illustrations as closely as possible so that the work of the cast, individually and collectively, was made doubly enjoyable to the appreciative audience.

For the remainder of the program, poetry seemed to take precedence over prose, for Mrs. Maude Goff read three decidedly clever bits of verse, "Who Comes in at My Shop Door," "Flaming Youth" and "Ode to Tiny." Mrs. Clarence McCintock, one of the guests, read a pleasing little conceit in her "Eugenie's Hat," and Mrs. Harry M. Smith read the charming "Winter in California" which had appeared earlier in the month in Lee Shipman's column of the Los Angeles Times.

Mrs. Frank Was had one prose contribution, an enthralling article to her "Reflection of Glory" which has aroused so much interest among members, and Mrs. J. D. Campbell read a well-constructed article, "Meet the Wife."

Completing their hospitality, Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Brown served water-thin little sandwiches with coffee, home-made cakes and ice cream, to Quill Pen members and guests, who included Mesdames J. U. Via, Herman Reuter, Maude Goff, Harry M. Smith, Frank War, Roy Winchester, J. D. Campbell, the Misses Dorothy Clarkson, Anne Marshall, Edith Johnson, Lila Ott, Damaris Beeman, Alma Karlsson, Martha Whitson, Joanne House, Mesdames Clarence McCintock, Hazel Summers, Rae House, N. E. Mayhill, Laura McNaught and M. Harman.

Quill Pen club's next meeting will be on February 9 with Mrs. Ray Winchester presiding with contributions due from Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Elliott and Miss Verna Wells.

V. F. W. Auxiliary Will Continue Series of Benefit Parties

Continuing the success achieved by earlier benefit parties, Wednesday night the Charles W. Kincaid home, 1233 South Broadway by guests of the auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Over 40 friends were assembled for the pleasant evening, during which half a dozen tables were called into service for the card series. Several of those present preferred to sit back and chat, and in case of Ernest Kellogg post members, recall incidents of their service in foreign war zones.

In the bridge contest, prizes were awarded John E. State and Mrs. John State, holders of high scores, and to Mrs. Paul Cozad and Frances Reiser, scoring low. In 600 Mrs. Sam Ward and Fred Slavens took high prizes, with consolation gifts going to Mrs. Nell Meister and Roy Miles.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening by a hostess committee composed of Mrs. Kincaid, Mrs. Frank Besser and Mrs. W. J. Kelsey. The parties have proven so enjoyable, and are adding materially to the welfare fund of the auxiliary, so they will be continued from time to time in the future.

Valentine Theme Used At Pretty Bridge Luncheon

Valentine's day inspired the pretty theme used by Mrs. A. H. Jamieson yesterday afternoon when she entertained friends in the home of her sister, Mrs. S. J. Walker, 401 East Bishop street. Flowers and other appointments at the tables where luncheon was served at one o'clock were in keeping with the red and white motif.

Following, bridge and 600 were played. When scores were added it was found that Mrs. Cornish Roehm and Mrs. Brockford scored first and second high in bridge, Mrs. Gertrude Cleary and Miss Pauline Cleary held first and second high honors in 600. A special prize was awarded to Mrs. C. H. Adams.

Thirty-five guests were present at the pretty affair.

Country Club Members Anticipate Formal Anniversary

Regardless of the various functions given in Santa Ana Country club and their importance in the records of social life in the city, nothing quite approaches, in the minds of the members, the annual anniversary celebration. This year, with entertaining at the lowest possible ebb, the anniversary formal assumes an importance even greater than is usually accorded it, and the date of Thursday night, January 23 is being awaited by club members with the liveliest anticipations.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Flagg will head the receiving line, since Mr. Flagg is president of the organization, while assisting them in host duties will be the past president, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mayhill, the list including Mr. and Mrs. Charles Twist, Mr. and Mrs. L. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Van Dien, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Spurgeon, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. McDonald and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Kennedy.

Festivities will begin promptly at 7 o'clock, with the hours of 7 to 9 o'clock designated for the serving of the anniversary dinner, reservations for which must be made in advance. At 9 o'clock the assembly room will be cleared for dancing, for which excellent music has been secured in the form of the Cal Holden orchestra. This is an eastern orchestra of 17 pieces, and includes a quartet for special entertainment features. A contract at a prominent Los Angeles hotel has just been completed, and the orchestra has been signed for the year at the Rendezvous ballroom from which it comes for the one special engagement at the Country club.

But dancing will not be the sole entertainment of the evening, for the host committee has combined the January card party with the anniversary celebration, and tables for bridge enthusiasts will be arranged in the card room on the second floor. The monthly card parties have been especially enjoyable affairs, with prizes for the winners. For this feature of the anniversary party, the committee has selected unusually attractive gifts, and the card games are to have equal importance with the dancing for all guests.

Another innovation will be in regard to attendance at the party. In previous years there have been various groups who have not been present for the dinner but who have dropped in at the clubhouse later for the dancing. This year the host committee, conferring with manager T. F. McGuff, reached the decision to ask reservations for dancing or ask as well as for the dinner, and will request the co-operation of all members in this point.

Willard Girl Athletes Are Honorees at Luncheon

Complimenting those members of the Frances Willard Girls' Athletic club who will complete their junior high school course at the close of this semester and advance to senior high school, the club staged a luncheon of special charm recently in the faculty dining room at Willard school.

Chinese lilies and narcissus blooms were arranged in low bowls of soft green pottery harmonizing with the fern fronds scattered loosely over the tables. Tall yellow tapers were placed at intervals amidst the floral setting, and cards indicating places for the guests, were decorated in tones to harmonize with the color of the candles.

Seated at the speaker's table were Miss Dorothy Broadway, club sponsor and advisor; the Misses Helena Bailey, retiring president of the high nine class; Jean Reuter, vice president; Nettie Lee, treasurer. At adjoining tables were the honor guests, Nancy White, Naomi Sullivan, Valerie Demetriou and Frances Wase, winners of all-star letters representing special achievement in athletic activities; Alsa Thompson, Geraldine Griffith, Ruth McBurney, Edna Huntton, Charlotte Mock and Betty Scheel.

The Misses Lou Ella Brunson, Muriel Bray, Margaret Crowell, Ruth Ellen Dunlap, Marguerite Haskell, Marguerite Mathews, Melvina Moore, Bertha Murrell, Margaret Munro, Evelyn Shepard, Lorraine Clark, Betty Hill, Delores Brooks, Pauline Hambrick, Stella Meador, Evelyn Thorpe, Jean Munro, Jean McBurney, Thelma Marks, Betty Clark, Hazel Schwarm, Evelyn Richards, Helen Lawe, and Margaret Peury.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hays and Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Wade were visitors in Long Beach yesterday. Miss Virginia Slabaugh had as recent guests in her home, 407 West Santa Clara street, Mrs. Irving Blom of Honolulu, her infant daughter, Beverly Lynwood Blom, and her mother and sister, Mrs. Hugh Dickson and Miss Dorothy Dickson, both of Los Angeles. Miss Slabaugh and Mrs. Blom were members of Alpha Chi Omega sorority at the University of California when both were attending that university. Mrs. Blom's husband is a dentist in Honolulu. His wife will be visiting her mother in Los Angeles for about two months.

Plans were made for the covered dish dinner meeting to be held in conjunction with Calumpit camp next Tuesday night in K. C. hall. Mrs. Zola Hays was named as chairman of the hostess committee composed of Mesdames Maude Brown, Carrie Adams, Bertha Holmer, Edna Cann, Rosa Bauers and Miss Verena Bailey. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Bridge Enthusiasts Give Attention to Contract

Among bridge players of the city in whom enthusiasm for contract bridge has superseded that formerly felt for auction, is a little club of a dozen members who meet on the first and third Wednesday of each month for luncheon and an afternoon of play. Mrs. James N. Harding had the pleasure of entertaining the members this week, and planned a little variety by having them lunch together in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe on North Main street, before the afternoon of play in her own charming home at 1427 Bush street.

Two guests shared the hospitality of Mrs. Harding, Mrs. Winnie Connelley and Mrs. Frank Pinkerton, who substituted for members of the club unable to attend. Members present were Mrs. Irwin F. Landis, Mrs. Charles Kelley, Mrs. Charles V. Davis, Mrs. James I. Clark, Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth, Mrs. Earl Morrow, Mrs. George Briggs, Mrs. Roy Hall and Mrs. Parker Roper, together with the hostess, Mrs. Harding.

Because of the exactions of the game, there was no progressing, and at the close of the afternoon, club prizes were awarded the holders of high score at the three tables.

At the last previous meeting, with Mrs. Roy Hall as hostess, the guests found the modern, as exemplified by their chosen game, contrasted with the mid-Victorian. For Mrs. Hall served an old-fashioned luncheon menu in harmony with the quaint table appointments of an earlier day. A silver caster, so admired by our grandmothers, centered the table, and the china and silver service continued the idea of the era in question.

Little Maid Observes Eighth Birthday With Party

The manifold problems arising out of the discipline of dolls and the management of diminutive households occupied the youthful guests of little Miss Olive Pique when that young lady entertained Wednesday in celebration of her eighth birthday. She was assisted by her hostess, Mrs. Charles Pique, and by her younger sister, Charleen Pique, who will be six in March.

When domestic obligations pall, the youngsters gathered about a "party table" trimmed in pink and green and bearing a white birthday cake with pink candles. Dolls, stacked in crepe paper costumes, balanced perky at each place and were given each guest as a party favor.

Those invited to the party were the little Misses Margaret Sharpless, Patricia Price, Grace Stone and Beverly Baker. Mrs. Elizabeth Price assisted Mrs. Pique in serving.

Calumpit Auxiliary

Functioning under newly installed officers Calumpit auxiliary, U. S. W. V., held an interesting meeting Tuesday night in Knights of Columbus hall, where reports of several committees gave an excellent idea of what is being accomplished by the organization in its humanitarian and altruistic work.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moberly, newly installed president, named her various committees including the executive committee which consists in addition to herself, of Mesdames Katherine Ragan, Eleanor Shaw, Nannie Reed and Bertha Helmer.

Mrs. Elizabeth Erickson, past president, heads the finance committee composed of Mesdames Anna Patmore, Louella Randel and Eleanor Shaw and Miss Verena Bailey. The auditing committee includes Mesdames Josephine Farrar, Bertha N. Dixon, Emma King Wassum and Cora Fields; on the relief committee are Mesdames Elvira Kurtz, Phoebe Hyatt and Maude Brown.

The home and employment committee includes Mrs. Jane Winter and Mrs. Emma Kellogg, while on the legislative committee are Mesdames Joan Tantlinger, Orella Markwalder, Laura Du Bois and Maude Miller. The flower committee includes Mesdames Myrtle Waffie, Lila Kincaid and Beesie Fitzpatrick, and the sewing committee, Katherine Reagan, Estelle Dresser and Frances Dresser.

Mesdames May Glaze, Frances Moulton and Marie Lindquist form the child welfare group; with Mesdames Margaret Donovan, Mary Cooper and Margaret King as the Americanization committee; Mesdames Gertrude Rowe, Hazel Hall and Alice Gay as the house committee; and Mesdames Bertha Helmer, Josephine Farrar and Elva Hunt as hospitalization committee.

Among the guests who attended the meeting were three Fullerton auxiliary officers, Mrs. Le Roy, Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Ella Charles, each of whom gave a friendly little talk after her introduction to the members.

Among reports given was that of the relief committee which showed that 50 sick calls had been made since the previous session, and that a great amount of work had been done in helping meet the unemployment situation, not only by the auxiliary as a whole, but by individual members.

Plans were made for the covered dish dinner meeting to be held in conjunction with Calumpit camp next Tuesday night in K. C. hall. Mrs. Zola Hays was named as chairman of the hostess committee composed of Mesdames Maude Brown, Carrie Adams, Bertha Holmer, Edna Cann, Rosa Bauers and Miss Verena Bailey. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Extension of P-T. A. Work to Be Allowed By Players' Offer

Opportunity to widen the scope of the work already being conducted by the Santa Ana P-T. A., which has resulted thus far in the distribution of more than 10,000 garments to the city's needy, was seen in the offer of the Community Players' organization to allow the P-T. A. women 50 per cent of the money accrued from tickets sold to the coming Community Players' production, for application on the junior college scholarship fund.

The announcement was made at the city P-T. A. board meeting in the board of education building yesterday and was received with enthusiasm by the members, who are counting on the unusual drawing power of "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," scheduled for production here January 28, 29 and 30, to make their task an easy one and to result in the acquisition of a considerable fund. Tickets for the play, to be presented at the Ebell clubhouse, may be obtained from Mrs. Sam Hurwitz, chairman of the student loan committee; or from Mrs. Roy Beall or Mrs. Alvin Nowotny, it was announced.

In elaborating upon the welfare report Mrs. Beall pointed out that the figures for the number of garments sent out did not include shoes or stockings issued, and that in addition to these articles, 52 comforts and 23 layettes were also placed.

Mrs. Golden Weston of the adult education department asked assistance in the sale of a paper, to be published at an early date, which will contain information concerning the work being carried on by this department in the city jail. P-T. A. members throughout the city will have an opportunity to purchase this paper, it was decided.

Frances Hunt Beeson reported on the recent appearance of the Santa Ana Mothersingers.

Hollywood Wedding Will Interest Santa Ana Friends of Bride

Santa Anans who recall the departure from this city of two lovely blonde girls, Miss Lucille Williams and Miss Velma Watkins, who went to Hollywood some five or six weeks ago to seek fame and fortune in the film world, will be interested in the romance of Miss Williams, who today was to be married to John H. Harris, millionaire theater operator of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Miss Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, formerly of this city but now of Hollywood, and while living in Santa Ana was employed in one of the courthouse offices. Both she and Miss Watkins have appeared in countless pictures in minor roles, and their friends here have often had the pleasure of seeing their work.

Tomorrow's wedding promises to be a very quiet affair, and will culminate a romance which began three years ago when Mr. Harris was the guest of George O'Brien, motion picture star, at his Malibu beach home. Mr. O'Brien will serve as best man at the wedding, and a sister of the bridegroom will be Miss Williams' maid of honor. Mr. Harris, accompanied by his mother and two sisters, reached Los Angeles last Sunday in their private car.

Mothers Club Makes Food Provisions For Children

Checks will be written for Spurgeon school children in need of milk or other necessary articles by the Spurgeon School Mothers club, it was decided by the finance committee of that organization at a meeting held in the school rooms Tuesday.

A benefit bridge party will be held by the club Monday, February 1, in the school auditorium. A nominal charge will be asked. The committee in charge includes Mesdames James K. Givens, chairman; Earl P. Ladd, Frank Corey, A. R. Olin, T. V. Short, Martin Hull and William Wells.

Mrs. Emma Stroup of Balboa Beach spoke on "Mothers of Famous Men," and endeavored to show, in discussing the characters of the mothers of Washington, Lincoln and other American personages, and of numerous Biblical figures, the manner in which the mothers had influenced their sons from a spiritual standpoint. Mrs. Stroup's subject was described as admirably handled. Praise also was given Mrs. Blanche Owens for her able summary of a chapter titled "The Home of Civilization" from the book "Challenge of Youth" now being studied by the club. Mrs. Charles Nalle, president, introduced the speakers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS
St. Anne's Altar society president, Mrs. Mary Cral, today announced a benefit dinner which the society will hold Monday evening from 5:30 to 7:30 o'clock, in the parish hall, at Borchard and Sycamore streets. The menu will be all home-cooked dishes, and all friends of the church are invited to be present.

The Current Events section of the Ebell club will meet at the clubhouse Tuesday for a 12:30 p. m. luncheon. Hostesses will be Mesdames Hugh Shields, Byron Curry and C. E. Bressler.

The American Legion Mothers' club will meet in the Legion hall Monday at 10 a. m. Comforts will be tied and quilting enjoyed. The exchange of gifts postponed from the last meeting will take place Monday. A pot luck luncheon is planned.

HARDING
HARDING, Jan. 22.—Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Kurtz and son, Bernard, of Long Beach, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Bowman, of Lincoln avenue.

Good Used Typewriters REBUILT

almost like new - cost little money - sold on easy payments

Look at those two typewriters over there on the shelf. Which one is new and which is a rebuilt typewriter? No, you just guessed, and happened to guess wrong. Lots of others have been unable to see the difference at first glance.

"The biggest difference is in price. A Tiernan rebuilt typewriter is really REBUILT! The Federal Trade Commission defines a rebuilt typewriter, but Tiernan rebuilds them BETTER than the Commission's specifications.

"They're moderate in cost, they're wonderful values, and convenient monthly payments put them in reach of anyone who needs a good typewriter."

The MIXING BOWL by ANN MEREDITH

Cauliflower With Lemon Juice

Do you know that—linear or lemon juice, prefer-y the latter, improves the color of cauliflower and makes it crisp. Use just enough make the cooking water slight-acid, and cook uncovered. Both etables are distinctly improved a cheese dressing, quickly wned in a hot oven. Put the ked vegetable into a baking se, scatter liberally with grated se and bits of butter, salt and per. Pour a little rich milk and the vegetable; while the is melting and browning,
e with the milk a few times.
reader writes and asks me if now what makes some dill les hollow in the center.
do not know, but would be to know if some one has the wer.

1 No. 2½ can solid pack to-matos
2 large white onions, sliced
Crumbs for top
Salt and pepper.

The oven will have to be used for this casserole, so we might just as well plan a whole ovenlaked meal to utilize the heat.

How about baked potatoes? Big really ones, with a piece of butter stuck into their homely faces.
And for dessert try my way of baking apples. I am not permitted to eat the skins of baked things, so I peel the apples, halve and core them, and bake them with any syrup left from a can of fruit . . . no sugar or water, but the pan closely covered. I serve them hot with cream for those who wish cream.

And what about a hot bread for this meal? Why not that delicious grape nut bread of Mrs.
V. B. W.? Nothing has come my way quite so good as this bread.

BRANDED MEN Comedy "Peeking in Pekin"

Chapter No. 3 of serial, "The Sign of the Wolf" — News

Some one of the family will start fanning his tongue in anticipation of all the hot things this oven will presently give up, so, let's see about a salad—Anything you like for YOUR choice; mine is hearts of lettuce with Roquefort cheese French dressing.

Butter a covered casserole, a deep one. Open the can of to-matos (we'd use fresh ones if they were in season) and drain off the excess juice. This can be served for breakfast next morning, well chilled and seasoned.

In the bottom of the casserole put a thin layer of sliced onion liberally covered with grated cheese, then a layer of tomato, sliced thin.
Continue so until the onion and tomato are used up. Cover the top with crumbs and cheese, season highly and bake in a medium oven one hour. Slip under the flame a minute to crisp and brown the top before serving.

The cheese, listed at 1885 calories, helps to make a respectable total for this casserole, 2425 calories, chiefly tissue builders.

With that percentage of protein you can afford the baked potato and a small slice of bread, but not the cream, unless you are under 18.

That much-wanted diet is ready for those who wrote in for it. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the Reducing Diet for Muscular Types.

Those who have already sent in the required envelopes, please discard this rule. Your letters have been filed against the appearance of this diet and have been already mailed to you. If they fail to reach you, please let us know.

Readings Enjoyed By La Habra Club

LA HABRA, Jan. 22.—An interesting program of contests and readings entertained members of the Senior Ladies club at their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. C. J. Stoutsenberger. Mrs.
John Leutwiler gave several readings.

At the short business session it was voted to give $5 to the Community Welfare League. A letter was written which all members signed to be sent to Mrs. Flora Little, a member of the club, who has been ill for some time. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

BREA

BREA, Jan. 22.—Several from Brea attended the card party given in Fullerton Tuesday night under the auspices of the Altar society of St. Mary's church. Those going were Mesdames C. F. Gordon, G. C. Fol-kner, Harry Sellers, John Hughes, Winnie Crabbill, C. J. Wall, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Messer and Jack Solis.

Mrs. G. C. Charlton, residing on East Birch street, is reported in a very serious condition following two operations performed recently.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Goode, of Caleico, arrived in Brea Wednesday for a visit with Mrs. Goode's sister, Mrs. J. F. Bergman, and family.
They expect to remain until the first of next week.

Members of the Aid society of the Christian church enjoyed a silver-tea at the home of Mrs. W. E. Fanning yesterday afternoon. About 30 attended, each bringing something of needlework. Proceeds from the tea will be used for welfare work.

Deaconesses of the Christian church met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. R. O. Williams. Tea was served and the afternoon devoted to discussion of plans for the work of this group during the year. Present were Mrs. W. W. King, Mrs. W. C.
Churchill, Mrs. J. F. Bergman and Mrs. William Jackson, the latter chairman of the group.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Lynes are moving into their own property on Euclid street, the house until recently occupied by the Rev. A. E.
Tebay and wife, who have moved to San Diego. Mr. and Mrs. Lynes have been living in the Hall property on South Walnut street.

Mrs. Charles Swan and son, Jackie, accompanied by her uncle, C. E.
McGilliard, motored to Burbank Wednesday and spent the day visiting Mrs. Swan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reed, and with friends.

"WELL! LIKE IT?"

James Cagney and Loretta Young furnish the romance in the picture "Taxi" which comes to the Fox West Coast theater today.

NEWS AND NOTES MICKEY MOUSE CLUB for BOYS AND GIRLS

A typical western picture that is expected to be an unusual treat for children is the picture booked for the Santa Ana Mickey Mouse club this week at the Fox West Coast theater. The picture is "The Conquering Horde," starring Richard Arden and Fay Wray.

The story of the old west, cattle driving northward to the railroad terminal, the plot is based on historical facts. Indian fighting, dire plots to head off a herd of cattle being driven through the wilderness and a brave man's final success make the picture absorbing and interesting throughout.

Regular Mickey Mouse features will be seen on the stage and candy will be given all patrons of the theater as refreshments, it was announced.

York, it took the city by storm, the refreshing comedy as staged by Cagney being unusually brilliant in a setting of killings.

Cagney plays the role of the leader of the independent taxi operators in a war with the chain operators.
The father of his best girl kills a man and is sent to prison. The girl is Loretta Young. Other murders are committed. In the film which runs along at a fast clip until the very end when all turns out as an audience would want it.

George E. Stone and Dorothy Burgess are also cast in excellent parts in the film, Stone playing the role of buddy to Cagney. Although the plot could have been gruesome, its wholesome comedy throughout, particularly in the dialogue, turn it into a delightful bit of entertainment.

"TAXI" OPENS AT WEST COAST HOUSE TODAY

"Taxi," Warner Brothers new picture which stars James Cagney as a comedian in a story that is filled with taxi-wars and murders, opens a one-day run at the Fox
West Coast theater today.

The picture has played in New York and in Los Angeles in spite of the fact that its release date is not set until February 2. In New

"EMMA" LIKED BY AUDIENCES AT BROADWAY

In "Emma" which is now playing at the Fox Broadway theater, Marie Dressler gives to the screen another of those brilliant dramatic characterizations which first surprised filmgoers when she deserted comedy to play Martha in "Anna Christie," and which in "Min and Bill" won her the Academy award for the outstanding feminine performance of the year.

Miss Dressler is given a unique dramatic situation in "Emma," and she handles it with all the skill, the sympathy and the adroit combination of humor and pathos which audiences have come to expect of this distinguished actress. The story places her as the housekeeper in the home of a millionaire inventor whose wife has died and whose children have come to look upon Emma as a second mother.

When, however, the millionaire marries her and she becomes their mother legally, the children take a different view of the woman who has worked all her life for them.

Things reach an even more bitter climax when the father dies, leaving all his money to Emma.
The devoted and harmless Emma is now accused of having contributed to the death of the millionaire for the sake of his wealth and the result is a notorious will contest and the ultimate trial of Emma for murder.

The work of the supporting cast leaves nothing to be desired. Richard Cromwell as the youngest son who remains loyal to his stepmother gives a performance which even outshines his effective work in "Tollable David." Jean Hersholt, as the millionaire, is as usual sympathetic and convincing. Excellent work is also done by the attractive Myrna Loy, John Miljan, Pur-nel B. Pratt, Lella Bennett, Barbara Kent and Kathryn Crawford.

Boy Scout Troop For Buena Park

BUENA PARK, Jan. 22.—The newly organized Boy Scouts under the leadership of C. M. Shirkey will meet Monday nights. There will be two patrols, with Calvin McAneer as leader of the Buffaloes and Stanley Liddick leader of the Wolves.

Those who have signed up for the term are Haldane Cummins, Ezekiel Dominguez, James Eshgen, Stanley Liddick, Donald Mann, Calvin McAneer, Dallas McKenlas, Walter Melbourne, Claton and Gerald Rayburn, Dwight Stewart, Theodore Turner. Transfers are Howard and Valdors Larsen. Robert Rittenhouse was present at the local meeting last evening.

It's the pride of the menu!

FOR COOKING!

FOR TABLE USE!

That's why it's called C and H MENU
"Berry," of course! And does it deserve its name! Well, Pacific Coast women who've used this fine-grained granulated think so.

In the first place, C and H MENU
"Berry" is snowy white—really white, and lovely just to look at. In the second place, it's pure cane sugar (and these days fastidious women will use only pure cane sugar for both table use and cooking).

And then, most important of all, because of its fine, fine grains C and H MENU
"Berry" is the ideal granulated sugar for every menu use. You'll marvel at the way it dissolves when you serve it, how it creams when you cook it, how it blends and melts itself into snowy smoothness.

Oh, the texture of cake made with MENU
"Berry" (even Angel Food)! Oh, the smoothness of sauces made with it (MENU "Berry" creams marvelously)! Oh, the fluffiness of meringues, the velvety of icings, the satiny of candies made with C and H MENU "Berry"!

But be sure—be absolutely sure to buy your sugar in a white bag labeled C and H MENU "Berry" (2 lb., 5 lb., 10 lb. and 25 lb. sizes) or in the new pouring-protective package, if you want to be certain of getting this quick-dissolving granulated—and no other.

Brown Sugar, Confectioners Powdered, Dessert Sugar, Crystal Tablets, and Cubelets—in fact, all the C and H MENU Sugars (as the name implies) offer endless opportunities for varying the menu.

This is the new C and H MENU
Sugar carton with the clever pouring and protective device.
2 lb. and 5 lb. sizes wrapped in waxed paper to prevent caking.

TRAVELING MAN ENDORSES ALL-BRAN

Says It Brought Relief From Constipation

"I want to take this unsolicited means to tell you what ALL-BRAN has done for me."

"I am on the road all the time and this has a tendency to constipate me, or any one who travels all the time. I used to suffer a great deal from constipation, until some one told me about Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Since I have been eating this cereal, I have been cured of constipation. I heartily endorse it to any one suffering as I did."

Mr. B. F. Pollard, Marion, N. C. Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN provides both. At the same time, it supplies iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Being a natural corrective ALL-BRAN is not habit-forming.

How much better than risking pills and drugs—so often harmful. Two tablespoons daily will overcome most types of constipation—serious cases, with every meal. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in cooking. At all grocers in the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

School News

News Notes From Santa Ana Schools

Frances Willard

At L. A. Schools
Mrs. Grace Lund, dean of girls; Arnold Lund, boys' physical education instructor, and Miss Mary Jane Steel of the social science department, Frances Willard junior high school, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Nelson, Mrs. Iva Weber and Miss Pearl Nicholson of Julia Lathrop junior high school on a visit to the Thomas Starr King and La Conte junior high schools in Los Angeles. Methods in home room activities and student government in these schools were observed and some valuable ideas gained.

High Seven Assembly
The high seventh grade classes, under the direction of Mrs. Maurine Scott and E. D. Froeschle, sponsored the latest assembly. The High 7 chorus sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia" with solo sung by Evelyn Parr. Robert Warling played two numbers on the harmonica, "Over the Waves" and "Redwing." A short pantomime, "A Movie Scene," was presented by Mr. Froeschle's home room. The cast of characters included Bill Mitchell, Mary Jean Ramsay, Hubert Turnbaugh, Thomas Cassin, Eleanor Austen, Jesse Palres, Glenn Marr and Grace Berge. William Rudd played "I Surrender, Dear." Dorsey Grace read "Aisle in Church." A tap dance was given by Eileen Reid accompanied by Miss Clancy. A guitar duet, "Spanish Fandango," was offered by Chester Clark and Glenn Layton.

Another pantomime was presented by Mrs. Scott's home room, entitled "Cinderella Up to Date."

Graduation Plans
Students in the home rooms of Miss Ruth Langley, Miss Marian Libby and Miss Tessie Childers are busily engaged in plans for graduation which brings their activities in school life at Willard junior high school to a close.

Committees from each home room have been appointed to assemble material for the class history and prophecy, which are always read at the class dinner. Those working on the class history are Philip Smith, Edna Hinton and Mildred Pearson. Walter Cullen, Albert Pickhardt and Johnny Noche are collecting information for the class prophecy.

Rehearsals for the class play started last week with a fine cast selected from a large number of students who tried out, according to Miss Ruth Langley, director. Those taking part in the play are Charlotte Mock, Lucille Morris, Frances Was, Betty Lee, Anna Sutherland, Naomi Sullivan, Nancy White, Jean Reuter, Valerie Demetriou, Walter Cullen, Philip Smith, Carl Kennedy, Albert Pickhardt, Lynn Reed and Marvin Hinton.

Girls in the physical education class are working on a special feature to be presented the night of graduation, as are also the members of both the Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs.

Reunion Banquet

The Junior and Senior Social Law clubs of Willard held a reunion banquet Monday at the Highway Tea Gardens. Alumni members in high school and junior college were guests of honor. Miss Frances Was of the Senior Social Law club acted as toastmistress and a number of toasts were given and answered by John McBride, Betty Lee, Margaret Munro, Harold Harvey, Albert Pickhardt, Patsy Rapp and Earl Homan. George Munro, Harvey Baker, Nancy White, Lois Reed, Billy Twist and Philip Smith gave short but interesting talks on different subjects. Musical numbers were then rendered by Valerie Demetriou and Richard Robbins.

Girls' Tennis Club
During home-room period Friday the Girls' Tennis club held its regular meeting in Miss Ruth Langley's room.

The meeting was presided over by Jean Munro, vice president. A report of the treasurer, Jean Reuter, showed that there are now 25 paid-up members, which closes the club to new members.

The girls drew slips of paper on which were numbers indicating their position on the rungs of a ladder. As the ladder tournament progresses the girls on the lower rungs, if successful in their challenges, will unseat those who were lucky in drawing higher places. Each girl may challenge the girl directly above her and if winning four out of six games will trade places with her.

Welfare Club Meets
The Willard Welfare club had its first meeting since the holidays Wednesday noon in the cafeteria. Following the luncheon Mrs. Grace Lund, dean of girls, discussed the election of officers for Every Girl's and Welfare clubs to be held in the near future. Since a group of the present Welfare members will graduate at the close of the semester, new members were suggested. Miss Bertha Briney, typewriting instructor, Miss Lucy Maas of the business training department, and Miss Vera Jacobs of the social science department, were luncheon guests of the club.

Service Club Officers
The Willard Boys' Service club met in the school cafeteria Tuesday to elect new officers. A close race was run for president between John McBride, Gordon Lockett and Harvey Bauer, the latter winning by a small number of votes. Malcolm

Smith was elected vice president and Gordon Lockett was elected secretary for the coming semester. All three officers were from the low 9-1's, thus making this class represented in every club and organization in school with one or more officers and members.

Booster Club Officers

The Willard Boys' Booster club, to which every boy in Willard belongs, held one of its monthly meetings to elect new officers. To create interest the election was held exactly like a political convention to nominate that president of the United States. Each class had a chairman and carried a large sign with its section number printed on it. W. P. Reed, member of the faculty, had charge of the meeting. Bill Hawkins, L-2, and William Jones, L-3, were almost unanimously elected as president and vice president, but a close race was run for secretary between Gordon Lockett and Earl Ruddy, both of the L-2 section, Ruddy winning by only three votes. The three new officers made short speeches before the meeting was adjourned.

Basketball Manager
—Eugene Klatt, L-2 student, and Evelyn Thorpe, HS, were elected basketball manager and assistant manager by the girls' physical education classes at Willard junior high school. These girls will have charge of the intramural schedule of basketball games which is being played off now, according to Miss Dorothy Broadway, girls' physical education director.

visitors Saturday and Sunday in Puente with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lyons, and Sunday they, with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Worthy, motored to Victorville.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Graham and family visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Lewis and Monday, in company with Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Graham, were with relatives at Puente.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ruoff and daughter are house guests in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ruoff. Their home is in Garden Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. George Crane were in Glendale Sunday visiting an aunt, Mrs. Betty Reed.

SPRINGDALE

SPRINGDALE, Jan. 22.—Mrs. J. R. Gary has returned from Eagle Rock where she has been with her daughter, who recently underwent an operation. The daughter is convalescing satisfactorily.

Emil Ktaaler sr. of Los Angeles, father of Emil Jr., John and William Kettler of this place, was buried Wednesday in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ruoff were among those attending the services.

Miss Velma Wentzel, who attends junior college in Santa Ana spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wentzel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Graham were

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

With all the Tines out of sight, the big canary took to flight. It sailed around from room to room, then landed on the floor. Said Scouty, when it sang a bit, "Aw, I am not afraid of it. Come on, let's get acquainted. It is not made any more."

"All right, lad, we will follow you," said Duncy. "Then, if what you do, does not lead into trouble, I am sure we'll have some fun. Be careful that it doesn't peck you on your little face or neck. If it begins to chirp real loud, I think you'd better run."

Then Scouty whistled sweet and low. Said he, "That is the way I'll show the big bird we are friendly. Get some big bird for its lunch." And when the cracker was brought out they pleased the bird, without a doubt. Said Windy, "He is happy now. That was a happy lunch."

"Just watch me," Scouty said.

"I'll try to feed it. Course the bird was shy for just about a minute. Then it bravely took a bite. They fed it more and 'twasn't long until it broke out into a song. And then it flew back to its cage. And all was quite all right."

Soon Coppy found a muffin pan and shouted, "Say, I'll bet we can make up a game with this old thing. We'll stand it on its side and then put numbers on each cup. Come on, lads, help me stand it up. We'll shortly pitch lump sugar in. 'Twill be fun, when it's tried."

The others followed his advice and soon the game worked out real nice. The pitching of lump sugar spilled a lot upon the floor. "We'll sweep it out when we are through. Come, do the best that you can do," cried Scouty. "We can also all take turns at keeping score."

BONERS

When the book says that Sir Philip Sidney was an aristocrat it means that he did stunts in a circus.

BONERS are actual humorous tid-bits found in examination papers, essays, etc., by teachers.

Spontaneous combustion is a term applied to a bad case of measles or smallpox.

A hottentot is a sausage sandwich with mustard on it.

Minnehaha is the feminine form of horse-laugh according to modern slang.

When Bassanio said "As I live, I am upon the rack," he meant,

"Wherever I hang my hat is my home."

Vitamine is a kind of coal mined in Iowa.

The prehistoric Egyptians dressed in skin.

J. H. Rutledge, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rutledge and rank Rutledge took dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rutledge in Garden Grove recently.

S. M. Carter, who has been in the hospital at Sawtelle for five weeks, has underwent three minor operations, and is expecting soon to have a major operation. Mrs. Carter, accompanied by Mrs. H. H. Curtis, and Mrs. P. H. Nelson, visited Mr. Carter, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Thacker, of Los Angeles, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hyton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bushnell, of Los Angeles, spent a few days with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Maurer had for a Sunday guest, his father, F. Maurer, of Long Beach. In the evening Mr. Maurer's sister, Mrs. E. Clark, and F. Gregory, of Los Angeles, were guests.

Mrs. C. C. Harter and niece, Mrs. Winters, of Buena Park, spent Tuesday visiting friends and relatives. They had dinner with Mrs. Addie Osborn in Venice and visited friends in Santa Monica.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. William Hoskins and daughter and niece, Magdalene Bradley, of North Hollywood, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harter.

Mr. and Mrs. Brandon and their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stone, of El Modena, who are spending some time with her parents, have had a number of visitors. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. George Mansfield, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Stone and son, Jimmie, of Tustin; Orlando Stone, of El Modena; Miss Dorothy Harris, of Orange and Mr. and Mrs. Nate Hunter and Bradley Todd, of Garden Grove.

Mrs. W. L. Maurer attended the Nutt society meeting at the home of Mrs. H. Steers in Walnut Park recently.

W. King has returned from visiting his sister at El Modena.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rutledge were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grow and son, Burl, of Anaheim; Mrs. Ellen Hurst, of Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oakland, of Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Art Stitters, of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Frohn, of Buena Park.

Mrs. R. Seymour, who is spending the winter with her son, G. Seymour, of Fullerton, spent several days with Mrs. M. B. Curtis. R. D. Gillison is at Pacific Grove, where he is employed as a carpenter for the next three months.

R. O. Bennett, who suffered a stroke of paralysis two weeks ago, is still in bed. Mrs. H. Camplan and Mrs. U. Rias, of Los Angeles, friends of Mrs. Bennett, were with her last week and this week. Mrs. J. C. Michel, of San Pedro, a cousin, is with them.

Mrs. Charles Catlin, of Burbank, and son, William Emerson Catlin, and nephew, Lewis Catlin, surprised Mrs. C. C. Harter one evening recently.

Paul and Lee Benson and their mother drove to Rowland Park near Walnut Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bullis, of Long Beach, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Rowe.

The "hand times" social held at the Magnolia school auditorium sponsored by the P. T. A. of the district was well attended. The patrons of the school were appropriately dressed. The first number on the program was "Put On Your Old Grey Bonnet," rendered by the women's chorus of the P. T. A. This was followed by a pantomime, "Miss Popularity," given by four men and Miss Gibson, intermediate teacher. The Country School House scene created much amusement. Later in the evening games were played. A luncheon of gingerbread and coffee was served.

GOOD OLD DAD

SEATTLE, WASH.—A pathetic picture was P. T. Hendrickson, 62-year-old musician, when police picked him up for begging. In headquarters he explained that playing for pennies and nickels was the only way he had of getting money to send his son through college. He had two $50 money orders made out to his son, who is a sophomore at a western university.

Wine makers of Bordeaux, in France, are seeking a law which would make the drinking of wine compulsory with every restaurant meal.

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, Jan. 22.—The Rev. J. J. Woodson, pastor of the local Nazarene church, and Mrs. Woodson have returned from Colton, where they were called by business. They remained over as guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop Galloway.

The Rev. Edward Moody, of Garden Grove, occupied the local pulpit at both the morning and evening church services in the pastor's absence.

Miss Lillian Arnett returned Monday from Santa Ana, where she spent the week end with friends.

Miss Adeline Peterson in company with Harry and Douglas Basse, motored to Lake Elsinore Sunday to attend the boat races.

NEWPORT BANK CLOSED: WILL REOPEN SOON

Reopening of the First National Bank of Newport Beach, officers of which closed the bank yesterday afternoon following a run caused by the closing of the Bank of Balboa, will take place within a short time, it was stated this morning by Lew Wallace, president.

A meeting of the directors with two national bank examiners, W. J. Waldron and G. W. Jorres, was held this morning, when affairs of the institution were discussed and plans made for the reopening.

"There will be no loss to anyone," Wallace said. "We were compelled to lock our doors in order to protect the bank depositors. In the meantime, the assets of the institution are in charge of the controller of currency but the bank's directors remain in charge of the bank. We will be operating again shortly."

The run on the bank started at 6 o'clock yesterday morning after the state banking department had taken charge of the Bank of Balboa and its branch at Costa Mesa.

At 1 o'clock the bank's officers decided to lock the doors in order to protect the institution's depositors.

A WISE EXPLANATION

It is depressing to realize from late dispatches from the Orient that it is impossible to foresee the limits of Japanese aggression. Now they have demanded of China the dissolution of the Chinese Anti-Japanese Salvation Association and other Anti-Japanese bodies. It fires indignation.

Our sympathies are with the patriotic Chinese, burning with injustice and shouting their wrongs in meetings of the Chinese Anti-Japanese societies. Who can blame them? Japan has taken Manchuria, and now they say that if the Chinese talk the outrage over, Japan will take further steps.

Mr. Floyd Gibbons in his radio talk the other day from the Japanese military headquarters, stated that the Japanese people cannot understand why the sympathy of the Americans is apparently with the Chinese. At the time of the Russian-Japanese war, thirty years ago, the Japanese had our sympathy. Why have we changed? Mr. Gibbons said in part:

My Japanese friends, some of them thinking that America is unfriendly to Japan, have asked me why America was sympathetic then to Japanese interests and seems now to be more friendly to the Chinese.

So I tell them this. There's not one of us who doesn't pity the underdog—the little fellow. The Japanese soldier was the little fellow thirty years ago, and we were right with him. He understood our sympathies.

Even though there are 250,000 Chinese troops in Manchuria, or were when this started, and only 15,000 Japanese troops are here now, there's no doubting who's the underdog. China is unable to take care of herself in a military way, and although her hard-pressed armies offer resistance of sorts, the Japanese—better equipped and a real fighting machine—march through them like wind through a windmill. Just one push after another.

If American sympathies seem to be with China, that's something for higher-ups to ponder and play around with. All I can do is explain this thing as I see it—China's the underdog.

It has been as natural as the need for food and drink to the American people to react sympathetically to the needs of the "underdog." It is one of our most charming and meritorious characteristics. It is to be hoped that it will not be overwhelmed by intellect and tolerance.

It would be a great loss if American people were to lose their quick sympathetic reactions in favor of injured parties. It is a reaction which has been so traded upon and capitalized that it has sickened some of the wisest among us, but may it continue to exist in the American people to some time again be utilized, as it has in the past, to accomplish good and right wrongs.

Detroit has followed Philadelphia's suit in closing museums and recreational centers. Anyway, jobless men can stand outside and marvel at the beautiful buildings.

GOING TOO FAR

The other day in Chicago a funeral procession was held up en route to the cemetery because the driver of the hearse and the driver of the car containing the immediate family noticed that private cars, driven by their owners, were carrying the friends and relatives to the cemetery. The union to which these two drivers belonged had issued an order a short time ago that union men were not to drive cars in a funeral procession when attended by cars driven by non-union men. When these drivers recognized these private cars, they demanded that they be taken out of the line. An argument followed, as a result of which these two drivers left the hearse by the roadside, much to the embarrassment of all the mourners.

The police were called, the two men were arrested, and detectives drove the hearse and the family car to their destination. We have always been in favor of unions, but there are certain proprieties which even union men ought to observe. To inject into an occasion as solemn and as sorrowful as a funeral such discord and quarreling is simply unpardonable. The police did exactly the right thing, and any man so lacking in sympathy or propriety as to shock human sensibilities to such a degree deserves to feel the rigor of the law and draw down upon himself the condemnation of every decent citizen. We fully believe that union and non-union men alike will condemn the carrying of unionism to such a shameful degree. It is not so that unionism will commend itself to the sympathy and to the support of those who are sincerely interested in the cause of the workers.

BOOTLEGGERS AND HI-JACKERS

While the big bootlegger is facing the officers of the law, he is compelled to fight a rear-guard battle with the hi-jacker at the same time. The hi-jacker is simply a parasite upon the bootlegger. He is quite as well organized as the bootlegger. He too has his gang and his gunmen. And he lays heavy tribute upon the bootlegger.

The hi-jacker is not in the business of selling booze. His agent is familiar with all the "big shots" in the bootlegging business. His policy is to have his minions lie in wait for a load of liquor which he knows is to pass a certain point; and when it comes along hold up the drivers, and hold it for redemption. Naturally, the bootlegger has no recourse at law because he is an outlaw himself. His only redress is to pay up or set his paid gunmen upon them.

This hi-jacking business has its ramifications all over the country. It is said to be quite as profitable as bootlegging itself, and is in far less danger of the law. Surely, the way of the bootlegger is not smooth. As we read of the "big shots" in the business going around wearing steel vests and constantly attended by armed guards, we wonder how much of satisfaction there is in it for the man in the business. We suspect that they get into it without having counted the costs; and once in it they find it difficult to get out.

But Paris dressmakers are using dollar signs for buttons. Which brings up to date the old line, "Button, button, who's got the button?"

"STOP KICKING, AND RING THE BELL"

This is a slogan that has been suggested by the mayor of one of our largest cities. It has been taken up by business groups as a way to a revival of business. It is one of the methods of bringing back the happy days by shouting a slogan.

We do not disapprove of the attitude at all. A hopeful and optimistic mood and attitude is always in place. Crepe hangers should always be waved aside. But if such crying of slogans is an end in itself, these folk have another thing coming. Nothing can take the place of intelligent planning. Such planning must be made with a knowledge of all the facts in the situation and the facts are by no means confined to any immediate locality in which groups may be shouting, "Stop kicking, and ring the bell."

Washington Letter
Hoover's $2,000,000,000 Reconstruction Finance Corporation is Designed to Save Threatened Banks and Railroads

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

Washington.—The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is generally expected to save certain threatened banks, railroads and other corporations whose collapse would be likely to plunge the country deeper into depression.

Whether, by causing a release of frozen credits and hoarded funds, it will actually give the general situation the fillip required to place the bottom of the slump definitely behind is a matter of debate between the optimists and the pessimists. There seems to be a real chance that it may.

Throwing the government into business as it never was before, the administration and Congress have adopted the most drastic of several measures yet used to meet the crisis. Although designed for both its psychological and material effect as were the $100,000,000 tax reduction, the moratorium and the Hoover-sponsored National Credit Corporation—none of which halted, even if they retarded, the downward trend—it has greater possibilities than any of them.

It is called a two-billion dollar corporation because it will have $500,000,000 from the treasury for emergency loans to banks, railroads, insurance companies and other corporations and may raise $1,500,000,000 more for the same purpose by issuing its own bonds or debentures.

Many banks, Congress found, were not in a position to liquidate their holdings or take care of their depositors. Last year 2290 banks failed, with deposits of $1,759,000,000 on which it is believed the average depositor's loss will be about 50 per cent. Surviving banks threatened by frozen assets may now turn to the corporation for loans.

The corporation will thus serve as a place of refuge and, in a sense, as a guarantee of deposits. The fact that it has stop-gap money available is expected to give the business and credit structure, as well as depositors, the confidence they so badly need. No one expects that the whole of the two billions will ever be borrowed, but the measure sponsors think it should get the deflation process and end most of the uncertainty about how much worse things may get in certain directions.

Railroads have had serious difficulty in financing themselves since the security market went to bogging and their earnings sank under the obligations maturing in the first quarter of this year and in the six months ending with April will have required from $85,000,000 to $155,000,000 above their available cash and receipts in sight. Some roads have been faced with obvious disaster, but now, when they can't get loans from banking channels or the public they can depend on the federal government. The theory is that the new bulwark will inspire confidence in new railroad refinancing so that the roads can get most of the needed money elsewhere.

Insurance companies have had to sell securities at a loss in order to meet unprecedented demands for loans to policyholders and their position will likewise be strengthened, although it has not been as serious as that in which certain banks and railroads have found themselves.

Credit, vitally essential to maintenance of business enterprise, has been dried up and a dominant factor, experts agree, has been fear. "Not the weak fearing the strong, but the strong fearing the weak," according to Governor Eugene Meyer of the Federal Reserve Board. Strong banks fear the effects of failure of weak banks and restrict credit. If that fear can be dissipated by federal support of the weaker banks a return to normal credit operations becomes likely. A strengthened credit structure and increased confidence, it is hoped, will be accompanied by a return to circulation of money now hoarded.

THE TRAGEDY OF CHILDHOOD

It's little Bill's ambition
To be a great magician,
Whose blazing eye
Can terrify
A tiger or a bear—
Who has the awful power
That makes a burglar cower, Desert the bag
That holds his swag,
And go away from there.

He'd change all pestering teachers
To timid cowering creatures
Who would not nag
And bullyrag
A child who hated school,
And he and all his buddies
Could take or leave their studies,
And lark and play
And not obey
A single cruel rule.

But life, alas is tragic,
And Bill can learn no magic,
He can't forget
Nor weave a spell
Nor cast an evil glance.
The days, so fine and splendid,
Of witchery are ended
And for a boy
To know real joy
There's not a single chance!

Uncommon Sense

By JOHN BLAKE

PERSPECTIVE

When I was a child I owned a copy book, one of whose maxims read:

"To be intent on trifles indicates a weak mind."
I must have traced that copy a hundred times, and learned it by heart without even reading any meaning into it at all.

But, like many other things tucked away in childish minds, it remained hidden in the mysterious convolutions where thought is born, and has since recalled itself to me many times.

I think of it every time I see a mother who is so intent on keeping her house spick and span that she drives her children away from it because they are so uncomfortable, and thus deprives them of all the inestimable value of a home they enjoy.

I think of it every time I see a fussy executive, who insists that his subordinates do exactly as he does, instead of using their own initiative to get the results they are paid to get.

When a person looks too long at any one object he loses his perspective.

That means he becomes unable to see things in their right proportions as compared with other things, and his outlook is much the same as that of the people who look through the curious distorting lenses that are to be found in amusement parks.

The parent who tries to make a child pursue the same methods of study that were pursued thirty or forty years ago deprives him of all the advantage that modern methods have given children.

There are, as the proverb informed us, more than one way to skin a cat, and there are many systems of getting things accomplished.

J. M. Barrie, in one of his stories, tells of how a character, obviously himself, used to read Robert Louis Stevenson, and despair because of his fear that he never could capture Stevenson's style.

But he developed a style of his own, and there is little doubt in the minds of most people that he became quite as great as the man he was unable to imitate.

Just now there is a current slang phrase, "Be yourself," usually applied by flappers to young men who are over-flirtatious.

In that sense, it means exactly the reverse of what the words themselves mean.

But it is an excellent rule for you to follow when you begin to do the work that "your hands find to do."

Look at things in perspective. See them with your own eyes, and in the right proportions. Do not look at them through the eyes of others, for that will give you a "wrong slant on them."

Sooner or later you will discover that you are as nature made you, and that you never can be anything else.

Discover that early, and put it into use, and you will be saved many mistakes, a great deal of trouble, and possibly a disastrous failure.

Because he's got plum color gloves, Artie said, and I said, Yes, and not only that, but he pritty near wawked plum into that telegraph pole.

Maybe he was born in Poland and was feeling home sick, Artie said. G, something's up, on the trail, he said.

Meeting about 5 ladies in front of a drug store standing around some little kid sticking his fists in his eyes as if he wanted to cry and didn't know how, me saying, G, he's lost, on the trail. Being a funny looking little kid in a sailor suit, and the different ladies was asking him different questions such where he lived and what his name was, me whispering to Artie, I bet his father's a seller, do you see that sailor suit? and Artie whispering, Sure, I bet it's one of his fathers old ones cut down, I bet he got lost off a boat somewhere.

Ask him, I said. Wich Artie was just going to do when a lady came out of the drug store and the kid saw her and started to cry for real, and the lady said, Whats going on here, cant you people let a child wait for his mother in peace without getting him all excited? If people would mind their own bizness they'd get along better, she said.

And she grabbed his hand and started to pull him away faster than his legs could wawk without running, and the other ladies looked insulted and kepp on going, and so did us 2 detectives, making bleeve to discover more clues about people going passed, such as a skinny man being in the gravey bizness on account of his spats being gray.

THE ECONOMIC KINDERGARTEN

I grow daily sicker of the output of the orthodox economists with their endless discussions of business cycles and the seeming assumption that we are in the grip of economic "laws" that are as inevitable as the ebb and flow of tides.

The brutal fact is that we have business cycles and the like simply because we have not proved intelligent enough to use effectively the amazing productive capacity we have evolved.

We need to go back to the economic kindergarten and see some elementary facts, such as these:

(1) The one supreme purpose of production is to supply human needs with goods and services to the full limit of our productive capacity.

(2) The one supreme purpose of distribution is to get the goods and services we are able to produce into effective human use with the least possible difficulty or delay.

(3) Our producing capacity is limited by three things: (a) the natural laws of the world we work in; (b) our knowledge of available power and resources; and (c) our capacity for applying our knowledge.

(4) Our efficiency in distribution, that is our efficiency in getting the goods and services we produce into effective human use without undue delay or difficulty, is limited by but one thing, namely, our intelligence.

There is no other handicap to the effective use of our productive capacity.

There are no inevitable economic "laws" that cannot be changed by intelligence.

If men starve in the midst of plenty, we cannot make a business cycle the scapegoat; it is our lack of intelligence in inventing and administering the distribution of goods and wealth that is to blame.

This seems so obvious that one wonders why it is necessary to state it, but still statesmen and business leaders go on talking endlessly about this or that "law" of panic and plenty as if they were primitive men standing in awe of supernatural powers they could not alter.

The next great period of political and economic vitality will come when we frankly admit our bankruptcy of intelligent planning in the field of distribution. It will not be enough to talk about restricting production. That will be throwing away our biggest asset.

Our Children
By

JEALOUSY

What are you to do with a jealous child? His affliction gnaws his own heart and blights the family's spirit. He is most unhappy and he manages to make everybody else feel the same way. The irritating thing about it is that all the suffering is unnecessary. The child has no cause for jealousy. Jealousy never need of a cause. It feeds upon its own poison and waxes hot until it becomes a consuming fire. All of which doesn't help us much when we are faced with the real situation.

A brother or sister is jealous. Of what he does not know. He has a vexed feeling. He has been unjustly slighted and another put over him. Sister gets more smiles, more praise. People give her things and never think of him. She is the pet and he is the outcast. It is in vain that mother and father reason and explain. Jealousy knows no reason.

Such children are afflicted with a set of mind. Maybe it can be called temperament. It is a habit of thinking. The jealous one keeps measuring the world and its happenings in relation to himself and somebody did it on purpose. A kind word spoken to somebody else is a blow to his suffering soul. He looks inside, toward himself until his vision becomes shortened and he cannot see beyond his own dark spirit. How can we help him?

First, always, have a good child specialist look him over. Emotions usually have their origin in physical being. Indigestion, malnutrition, physical defects of any sort make the afflicted one feel all wrong. When one feels all wrong one begins to feel unfit. Unfitness makes fear and a belief that fear is at the bottom of jealousy. Fear of being displaced, fear of being found unfit, a desire to rise above limitations, a desire to be first coupled with the knowledge that one is far behind that goal will bring out jealousy. Work first for good health. Then for right thinking.

The jealous child, those of adolescent age and those advanced in youth, can be taught mental hygiene. They can be taught that thought is a force and that a good thought adds power while a bad one robs him of strength. Good thoughts have driving power. Bad ones have hindering power. They tie one's tongue and hands and feet. Good thoughts clear our minds as fresh air clears our lungs. Thoughts of beauty, altruism, creative ideas are the forces that build our souls. Evil, grudging, selfish thoughts weaken all growth and leave one helpless by the wayside. Children can be taught to shun wrong thinking and to covet the power to think healthy forceful thoughts. The root of jealousy is in a feeling of unfitness. If we can give the afflicted child a chance to feel successful, superior, adequate to the situation he faces, we have all but cured him. Give him a chance to serve the one that arouses his jealousy, let him feel that there are things he can do that this other cannot do as well, and he has one foot out of the slough. Keep pointing him to his own gifts, keep him busy cultivating them, and we soon have him on his cheerful way.

Nobody with good sense ever tempts a child to jealousy. Guard against that. Jealousy is poisonous to all growth, all happiness, all success. Put service in its stead. You can do it by patient understanding and instruction.

(Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
